Truman Leaves It to Ike When to Return to U.S.

Compliments General on His Ability, Judgment on Safe Time to Quit Overseas Area

Slaps McKinney

President Says Korean War Has No Bearing on Whether He'll Run

Key West, Fla., March 20 (AP) — President Truman said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is at liberty to return to the United States any time he deems it safe and proper.

The President told a news conference the general is doing an able job and is the best judge of when it will be safe for him to give up his post.

Truman also told newsmen that the Korean situation has no bearing whatever on whether he will seek re-election.

This amounted to a slap at Frank E. McKinney, the Democratic national chairman who said yesterday that his "impression" was that Truman's decision would hinge on whether a satisfactory truce was reached in Korea.

Truman said Korea does not enter into the politics of this country at all.

War Has No Bearing

What happens in Korea has no bearing whatever on what he (the President) may decide to do, Truman added.

Truman's remarks about Eisenhower developed in this fashion.

A reporter said news columnist Walter Lippmann had suggested that in view of Eisenhower's victory in New Hampshire and his unprecedented write-in vote in Minnesota, it was now Truman's "duty" to call Eisenhower home.

The President said it is his duty to see that we obtain our objective in Europe. He added General Eisenhower is the key man there and he understands the situation better than Walter Lippmann or anyone else.

Asked how he regards Eisenhower as a politician, Truman said that in his book Eisenhower is a military man and is doing a very able job.

Truman went on to say he was not interested in Eisenhower's political career. The general has a perfect right to do whatever he likes in that line, the President said, adding he had told Eisenhower that personally.

Week Is Granted Counsel for Nine Held as Gamblers

Internal Revenue Checking for Stamp Violations; Dismissal Motions Considered

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today granted counsel for the nine men arrested on gambling charges March 13, another week to prepare motions relating to the information.

The men were held after an early morning raid on a room at Broadway and Thomas street under direction of District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn. They were arraigned the same day and the case was put over until today to allow most of them time to obtain counsel.

Also interested in the case today to determine if there are any tax stamp violations were Philip F. McDonald, division chief of the Internal Revenue Bureau and Morton Finch, deputy collector for the bureau. They are awaiting completion of court proceedings to determine if there were violations.

Both men had also appeared at police headquarters immediately after the men were arrested last week.

Nine Arrested

The nine arrested for alleged violation of Section 970 of the Penal Law, which relates to the game of craps were:

Joseph Carpino, 124 South Manor avenue; Robert L. Vincent, 49 Dunneman avenue; Peter Cerasaro, Lucas avenue extension; Joseph J. Greco, Glasco; Charles Nettis, R.D., Saugerties; William Buckman, 61 Brewster street; John Sangaline, 314 East Chester street; James Sottile, 245 Broadway, and Shale Alcon, 11 Downs street.

Attorney Charles Gaffney appeared for Cerasaro, Vincent G. Connelly appeared for Vincent and all the others are represented by Attorney Charles Saccoman.

Attorney John Larkin represented the People.

Hope for Dismissal

Counsel asked for the adjournment mainly to consider possible motions for dismissal of the information and to reserve the right to make any other motion directed toward the information.

The federal men interested in the stamp tax violations indicated that unless there are other circumstances, a dice game alone will not constitute a violation.

The nine are under $500 bail each.

Portrait Arrives

Holland Artist's Sketch of Queen Juliana Is in Mayor's Office

One proof that the people of Holland are aware of Kingston's observance of its 300th anniversary is a portrait of Queen Juliana which arrived recently in the office of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk from Amsterdam.

The artist, L. B. VanNierop, explained in a letter to Mayor Newkirk that the pencil portrait of the queen was done from a photograph. It is for sale, he said, and one will be done in oils if desired.

VanNierop said he had noticed that this was an anniversary year for the city and he was hopeful that the city or an individual would be interested in acquiring the portrait to commemorate the anniversary.

Shipped by Pan American World Airways it arrived here in a box about two and a half by three feet and is now in the mayor's office.

Steel Talks Are Recessed by WSB; Chairman Stricken

Feinsinger Collapses From Fatigue; Threatened Walkout Is Set for Weekend

Washington, March 20 (AP) — The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) recessed its deliberations on the steel labor case early today after Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger collapsed.

Feinsinger, who had been working day and night on the case, in an effort to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday, keeled over at about 6:30 a. m.

A physician was called and reported that Feinsinger collapsed from fatigue.

The board then recessed until 2 p. m. its consideration of the case.

The unexpected delay posed a serious problem.

The industry was facing the problem of closing down furnaces lest the threatened weekend walkout leave the equipment without workers to attend it.

Doctors said Feinsinger apparently would be able to continue the negotiations this afternoon.

Earlier the WSB was deadlocked on the union shop issue.

Industry and labor members could not agree during the all-night meeting to a proposal by public members that would straddle the union shop problem.

Fred Bullen, board vice chairman, told reporters no votes were taken during the night.

Holds Hope for Solution

Asked whether he thought the board would be able to reach a solution in the steel dispute, Bullen replied:

"We see some hope of getting together."

Bullen said he expected the 49-year-old Feinsinger to be in shape for the afternoon meeting. Feinsinger was back on his feet within a short time after his collapse.

On leave as a law professor at the University of Wisconsin, he has been prominent in government labor affairs for many years.

The union shop issue deadlock and Feinsinger's collapse upset the WSB's time schedule designed to deliver a "package" solution in the complex dispute in time to avoid a Sunday strike.

Philip Murray, head of the CIO and the CIO Steelworkers Union had called a 10 a. m. meeting of his union's executive board to receive the WSB findings.

The union's policy committee then was to have met at 2 p. m. to vote on whether to postpone the strike at least until April 8 as Feinsinger had requested.

This was to give the union and management time to bargin on the board's recommendations.

Public members of the WSB reportedly proposed that the wage board make no specific recommendations on the union shop issue but issue a report strongly favoring the union shop without saying so.

This was understood to be acceptable to neither the industry members, who dislike the language, nor to labor members, who

Wicks Track Bill Dies in Assembly

Measure Dies as Sponsor in Lower House Asks It Be Laid Aside

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—The Assembly today killed the Wicks bill, which would have given the State Harness Racing Commission sweeping powers over the sport in New York now delegated to the U. S. Trotting Association.

The controversial measure died when its Assembly sponsor, Republican Elmer Kellam of Hancock, requested that it be "laid aside" until tomorrow. The Legislature will adjourn later today.

Power Lobby Does It

The action came after a powerful lobby, spearheaded by the USTA had convinced Republican leaders not to pass the measure without approving a companion bill to make track operators subject to the same license-revocation provisions as drivers, trainers and horse owners.

The USTA, a private corporation, was successful last week in having the Wicks bill amended to provide, in effect, for a "compromise" dual control over the sport in New York, by the State Harness Racing Commission and the USTA.

Also, at the behest of the USTA, a supplemental bill was introduced which woud empower the state commission to revoke

Work Is Resumed On Area Thruway

The Lane Construction Co. resumed work this week on the Saugerties-Kingston section of the New York State Thruway.

Work was started first nearest the Saugerties end and a crew of men was working today near the Plattekill creek bridge. Work on the lower section in the Kingston-Sawkill area is expected to be resumed soon.

The surveying projects south of Kingston extending toward Whiteport and Ohioville, which began some time ago are continuing.

Settlement Is Reached on Ports of Entry for Supplies and Troops

Munsan, Korea, March 20 (AP) —The UN command tonight in effect suggested off the record truce negotiations to try to break the long deadlock over exchanging war prisoners in Korea.

An official allied spokesman said the UN would "give consideration" to secret negotiations with only the final agreement—or lack of one—announced. There would be no daily briefings of news correspondents.

This development came only a few hours after staff officers agreed on 10 ports of entry through which troops and supplies would be funneled into Korea during an armistice.

Settlement of the ports of entry dispute left three major issues:

1—Voluntary repatriation. The allies insist that prisoners be allowed to accept or reject repatriation. The Reds want back all UN-held prisoners.

2—The allied demand for a ban on military airfield construction.

3—Communist nomination of Russia to a neutral inspection commission.

Would Permit Freedom

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official UN spokesman, said off the record prisoner exchange negotiations would permit staff officers to talk freely without having their daily arguments reported.

He emphasized there was no thought of a secret clause in the armistice.

"It would be completely incorrect to interpret (my remarks) as any indication that the UN command is departing from its position so far as negotiations are concerned," Nuckols said.

Communist newsmen at Panmunjom have mentioned repeatedly during the past few days that the prisoner deadlock could be broken in secret negotiations.

Nuckols made his remarks in response to questions from allied correspondents.

No Red Acceptance

There has been no hint from Red truce negotiators themselves

Primaries Force General To Plan Campaign Fight

Sees Taft Through If He Fails to Win In Wisconsin Poll

Aiken, a Neutral, Terms Big Write-in Vote Assurance for Eisenhower

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R.-Vt.) said today that Sen. Taft will be "just about out of the race" for the Republican presidential nomination unless he wins Wisconsin's April 1 primary decisively.

But Sen. Watkins (R.-Utah) said he believes "it will be a horse race" between the Ohioan and Gen. Eisenhower right down to the wire at the GOP nominating convention in July.

Aiken has not announced his choice for the nomination. Watkins is a Taft supporter.

Aiken termed "nothing short of amazing" the big write-in vote Eisenhower rolled up in Minnesota's presidential primary Tuesday. In 3,550 of 3,769 precincts so far reported, Eisenhower polled 106,788 votes to 128,134 for Harold E. Stassen, whose name was on the printed ballot. Taft has received 23,966 write-in votes.

Coming on top of Eisenhower's win over Taft in New Hampshire last week, the general's Minnesota showing elated his backers.

Calls Victory Clear-Cut

And Aiken said from "neutral" ground that the Minnesota results "represent a clear cut victory for Eisenhower when you consider that all those people who voted for him took the trouble to write his name in."

Watkins, however, called the outcome "not in any way significant or indicative of a trend." He said Eisenhower backers in Minnesota made a "vigorous and organized" write-in campaign and that the Taft people did not.

Taft himself said the Eisenhower vote was "astonishing." His only other comment was that he had discouraged his Minnesota supporters from writing in his name.

The Ohioan's headquarters here said he made "no campaign whatever" and added that the Eisenhower forces had been unable to defeat Stassen "despite weeks of feverish effort and the expenditure of large sums of money."

Taft and Stassen along with Gov. Earl Warren of California are entered in the April 1 Wisconsin primary, but Eisenhower is not. And Wisconsin law prohibits write-in votes.

Shift Planned

Aiken noted, however, that backers of Warren are urging Eisenhower supporters to vote for Warren on the assurance the Californian's delegates will be shifted to Eisenhower if Warren's bid for the nomination falls short at the convention. Warren himself has said he is not a stalking horse for any other candidate.

"Under the circumstances," Aiken told a reporter, "Taft has got to carry Wisconsin by a pretty substantial margin or he will be just about out of the race."

Aiken said he sees "a real possibility" of an Eisenhower-Taft deadlock at the convention unless the general comes home in advance of the Chicago conclave.

Shows U. S. Wants Ike

Eisenhower—who has said he is available for the nomination but won't seek it—had no comment on the Minnesota returns. But Paul G. Hoffman, just back from a Paris conference with the general, said the outcome showed that "America wants Ike."

Hoffman urged Eisenhower to return to the United States after the May 15 Oregon primary, and he (Hoffman) announced plans to seek a three-month leave of absence from the Ford Foun-

Happy

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower indicates his feelings with a smile after learning in Paris of his strong showing in the Minnesota primaries. Ike, whose name did not appear on the ballot, placed second to Harold E. Stassen with a wave of "write-in" votes which even supporters termed "amazing." (NEA Radio-Telephoto).

Charred Body Is Found in Ruins at Bushnellsville

William C. German, 90, Believed Overcome Near Door Trying to Escape Fire

The charred body of William C. German, 90, was found Wednesday morning among the ruins of his home at Bushnellsville, state police reported.

Troopers said the body was found next to the door leading outside from the living room, indicating that the aged man had almost reached safety when he apparently was overcome by smoke.

German, a former Kingston resident who for many years was employed by the Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery, lived alone. His closest relatives are five grandsons.

The fire which destroyed German's home was discovered about 8:30 a. m. Wednesday by neighbors who observed smoke seeping from the windows.

Troopers said that several neighbors attempted to enter the building, but found its interior completely involved in flames.

Flames Spread

Phoenicia and Westkill fire departments were called, but were unable to save the building because of the headway made by the flames. The house was of two story frame construction.

Coroner Michael A. Galietta issued a verdict of accidental death following an investigation.

Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly and Cpl. Ray Dunn investigated for the state police.

Cause Not Announced

Troopers reported that the home had been heated by a kerosene burning range, but did not say definitely whether the fire originated from the range.

Funeral services for German will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., of this city on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

Guns Take Back Seat

Washington, March 20 (AP)—A Senate watchdog committee says a "don't disturb the civilian economy" policy dominates the nation's rearmament program. The result, it said, has been the production of "a small number of guns and a great amount of butter, with considerable number of lollipops thrown in."

Voters Make Demand Eisenhower Change Position, Think About Nomination Bid

Pleased About 'Ike'

100,000 Endorsements in Minnesota Main Factor

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, March 20 (AP) —Gen. Eisenhower said today he is re-examining his political position—an indication he may soon go home to campaign actively for the Republican nomination for president.

The general took note of the "mounting numbers of my fellow citizens who are voting to make me the Republican nominee." He said, in effect, the voters of New Hampshire and Minnesota "are forcing me to re-examine my personal position and past decision (not to campaign for the nomination)."

Taft Out in Jersey

Eisenhower issued his statement a few hours after two developments—Sen. Robert A. Taft withdrew from the New Jersey preferential primary, and President Truman said Eisenhower was at liberty to return home any time the general deems it safe and proper.

Eisenhower's statement, however, took no note of either of those developments. It was issued in answer to reporters' requests for comment on the Minnesota primary, where more than 100,000 voters took the trouble to write in Eisenhower's name as their choice for the Republican nomination.

The statement said:

"You gentlemen probably realize how astonished I was by the results of the Minnesota primary.

"The mounting numbers of my fellow citizens who are voting to make me the Republican nominee are forcing me to re-examine my personal position and past decision.

"I did not imagine that so many voters in Minnesota would make me a write-in candidate and, according to newspaper accounts, some of them had trouble with my name.

Use of 'Ike' Pleases Him

"I count it an additional compliment that some refused to be dismayed by the long Eisenhower name and simply wrote in 'Ike.'"

Eisenhower's reference to his "personal position and past decision" apparently referred to a statement he issued Jan. 7, the day after his backers announced they would enter him in the New Hampshire Republican primary.

Referring to that statement, made by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, head of the Eisenhower-for-President movement, Eisenhower said then that Lodge was correct in terming him a Republican and added:

"He was also correct in stating

Lights Approved

BPW Votes Installation at Browning Terrace, Deyo Street

The Board of Public Works approved the installation of three lights on Browning Terrace, one of the city's new street developments.

A large light will be placed at Miller's lane and Browning terrace and two other smaller lights will be installed at intervals on the street.

The board also voted to place a new light on Deyo street. All were recommended by R. L. Whitbeck, of the board's light committee.

On recommendation of City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, the board voted to pay $14,355.22 to contractor James Berardi for work done to date on the Cornell street and Grand street sewer projects.

A resolution by Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th ward, asking the board to repair or replace a section of damaged sidewalk at Marius street and Josephine avenue was filed for future consideration. Discussion on this indicated that repair of the walk appears not to be a city obligation. The resolution said a city snow plow had damaged the walk.

Also filed for further consideration was a resolution by Alderman Joseph Wenzel, fourth ward, asking the repair of Stuyvesant street from Hasbrouck to Maple street, and a section of Gross street.

The board adopted a resolution appointing Thomas J. Kearney to the position of acting motor equipment operator. This resolution was required by civil service regulations. Kearney has been employed on the above job for some time.

Winter Has Last Fling With Snowstorm

Landscape Made Work of Art by Mother Nature; Roads Sea of Slush

Spring makes its official entrance today but winter is dying hard.

Just to show its contempt for the new season the skies greyed and rained down five inches of soft wet snow on Kingston yesterday, beginning about 6:30 a. m. and continuing until 9 p. m. Parts of Ulster county were hit even harder. Approximately 13 or 14 inches of snow fell in the Pine Hill section around the Lackawack dam, according to reports received by the Ulster County Highway Department. In other areas as much as six or eight inches were reported.

A number of trees fell as the wet snow piled on them, causing damage to electric wires and telephone lines. Many limbs were torn off by the sheer weight of the snow which was wet and heavy and stuck to the branches.

But the weather was getting warmer today as the spring equinox approached and the sun got ready to slip over the equator on its way back into the Northern Hemisphere. The crossing oc-

County Handling of Flood Damage Notice Held Legal

The manner in which the County of Ulster served notice of its $387,000 action against the City of New York for damage done to bridges and highways because of "cloud seeding" operation of Dr. Howell in an endeavor to augment the water supply in the Catskill system, has been held legal and "sufficient" by Supreme Court Justice Schreiber.

Notice of the action was served on the city clerk in the New York City Municipal Building. The City of New York brought on a motion to vacate the service and dismiss the complaint on the grounds there had been no personal service on the corporation counsel of the City of New York.

The motion was argued before Justice Schreiber Feb. 29 by County Attorney Frederick Stang and Assistant County Attorney Arthur A. Davis, Jr., for the county of Ulster. Stang held that the service was good in that the service had been made on the city clerk at a designated place where legal papers were usually served and where a notice appeared on the office "serve papers here." He argued that this practice was customary and such service had been sought by the City and it was not the custom to make personal service on the corporation counsel.

New York city moved to vacate the service on the grounds there had not been legal service in the action because of lack of personal service.

Also argued at the same time was a claim for damages brought against the city of New York by

Four Are Injured in County As Roads Become Slushy

Two persons were hospitalized and at least four others received medical treatment as a result of automobile accidents in Ulster county on highways made slippery by Wednesday's fall of heavy, wet snow.

In one accident reported by troopers, a bus load of Wallkill Central School children escaped injury when a passenger car skidded into the bus at it left the school about 3:10 p. m.

John Leslie Gregg, 17, of Gardiner, told troopers he was driving south on Route 208 when he applied his brakes and skidded into the left front side of the Gaddefroy Car Company school bus operated by Walter A. Harris, 59, of Wallkill. No injuries were reported in that accident.

A head-on crash on Route 9W in Highland at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday sent the drivers of both vehicles to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, troopers said. They were Walter B. Ryerson, 62, of Marlborough, who received lacerations to the face and chest, and Douglas M. Crapster, Jr., 27, of Hyde Park, who received fractured ribs and a cut over his left eye, state police of the Highland station reported.

Richard King, 31, and Ashleigh M. Losee, 26, both of Salt Point, passengers in Crapser's automobile, were treated at the scene for injuries, troopers said. Ryerson told troopers a passing vehicle threw slush on his windshield, causing him to lose control of the car, according to the state police report, which said that the front ends of both vehicles were "demolished."

This development came only a few hours after staff officers agreed on 10 ports of entry through which troops and supplies would be funneled into Korea during an armistice.

Settlement of the ports of entry dispute left three major issues:

1—Voluntary repatriation. The allies insist that prisoners be allowed to accept or reject repatriation. The Reds want back all UN-held prisoners.

2—The allied demand for a ban on military airfield construction.

3—Communist nomination of Russia to a neutral inspection commission.

Would Permit Freedom

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official UN spokesman, said off the record prisoner exchange negotiations would permit staff officers to talk freely without having their daily arguments reported.

He emphasized there was no thought of a secret clause in the armistice.

"It would be completely incorrect to interpret (my remarks) as any indication that the UN command is departing from its position so far as negotiations are concerned," Nuckols said.

Communist newsmen at Panmunjom have mentioned repeatedly during the past few days that the prisoner deadlock could be broken in secret negotiations.

Nuckols made his remarks in response to questions from allied correspondents.

Spring makes its official entrance today but winter is dying hard.

Just to show its contempt for the new season the skies greyed and rained down five inches of soft wet snow on Kingston yesterday, beginning about 6:30 a. m. and continuing until 9 p. m. Parts of Ulster county were hit even harder. Approximately 13 or 14 inches of snow fell in the Pine Hill section around the Lackawack dam, according to reports received by the Ulster County Highway Department. In other areas as much as six or eight inches were reported.

A number of trees fell as the wet snow piled on them, causing damage to electric wires and telephone lines. Many limbs were torn off by the sheer weight of the snow which was wet and heavy and stuck to the branches.

But the weather was getting warmer today as the spring equinox approached and the sun got ready to slip over the equator on its way back into the Northern Hemisphere. The crossing oc-

County Handling of Flood Damage Notice Held Legal

The manner in which the County of Ulster served notice of its $387,000 action against the City of New York for damage done to bridges and highways because of "cloud seeding" operation of Dr. Howell in an endeavor to augment the water supply in the Catskill system, has been held legal and "sufficient" by Supreme Court Justice Schreiber.

Notice of the action was served on the city clerk in the New York City Municipal Building. The City of New York brought on a motion to vacate the service and dismiss the complaint on the grounds there had been no personal service on the corporation counsel of the City of New York.

The motion was argued before Justice Schreiber Feb. 29 by County Attorney Frederick Stang and Assistant County Attorney Arthur A. Davis, Jr., for the county of Ulster. Stang held that the service was good in that the service had been made on the city clerk at a designated place where legal papers were usually served and where a notice appeared on the office "serve papers here." He argued that this practice was customary and such service had been sought by the City and it was not the custom to make personal service on the corporation counsel.

New York city moved to vacate the service on the grounds there had not been legal service in the action because of lack of personal service.

Also argued at the same time was a claim for damages brought against the city of New York by

Primaries Force General To Plan Campaign Fight

Sees Taft Through If He Fails to Win In Wisconsin Poll

Aiken, a Neutral, Terms Big Write-in Vote Assurance for Eisenhower

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R.-Vt.) said today that Sen. Taft will be "just about out of the race" for the Republican presidential nomination unless he wins Wisconsin's April 1 primary decisively.

But Sen. Watkins (R.-Utah) said he believes "it will be a horse race" between the Ohioan and Gen. Eisenhower right down to the wire at the GOP nominating convention in July.

Aiken has not announced his choice for the nomination. Watkins is a Taft supporter.

Aiken termed "nothing short of amazing" the big write-in vote Eisenhower rolled up in Minnesota's presidential primary Tuesday. In 3,550 of 3,769 precincts so far reported, Eisenhower polled 106,788 votes to 128,134 for Harold E. Stassen, whose name was on the printed ballot. Taft has received 23,966 write-in votes.

Coming on top of Eisenhower's win over Taft in New Hampshire last week, the general's Minnesota showing elated his backers.

Calls Victory Clear-Cut

And Aiken said from "neutral" ground that the Minnesota results "represent a clear cut victory for Eisenhower when you consider that all those people who voted for him took the trouble to write his name in."

Watkins, however, called the outcome "not in any way significant or indicative of a trend." He said Eisenhower backers in Minnesota made a "vigorous and organized" write-in campaign and that the Taft people did not.

Taft himself said the Eisenhower vote was "astonishing." His only other comment was that he had discouraged his Minnesota supporters from writing in his name.

The Ohioan's headquarters here said he made "no campaign whatever" and added that the Eisenhower forces had been unable to defeat Stassen "despite weeks of feverish effort and the expenditure of large sums of money."

Taft and Stassen along with Gov. Earl Warren of California are entered in the April 1 Wisconsin primary, but Eisenhower is not. And Wisconsin law prohibits write-in votes.

Shift Planned

Aiken noted, however, that backers of Warren are urging Eisenhower supporters to vote for Warren on the assurance the Californian's delegates will be shifted to Eisenhower if Warren's bid for the nomination falls short at the convention. Warren himself has said he is not a stalking horse for any other candidate.

"Under the circumstances," Aiken told a reporter, "Taft has got to carry Wisconsin by a pretty substantial margin or he will be just about out of the race."

Aiken said he sees "a real possibility" of an Eisenhower-Taft deadlock at the convention unless the general comes home in advance of the Chicago conclave.

Shows U. S. Wants Ike

Eisenhower—who has said he is available for the nomination but won't seek it—had no comment on the Minnesota returns. But Paul G. Hoffman, just back from a Paris conference with the general, said the outcome showed that "America wants Ike."

Hoffman urged Eisenhower to return to the United States after the May 15 Oregon primary, and he (Hoffman) announced plans to seek a three-month leave of absence from the Ford Foun-

Happy

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower indicates his feelings with a smile after learning in Paris of his strong showing in the Minnesota primaries. Ike, whose name did not appear on the ballot, placed second to Harold E. Stassen with a wave of "write-in" votes which even supporters termed "amazing." (NEA Radio-Telephoto).

Charred Body Is Found in Ruins at Bushnellsville

William C. German, 90, Believed Overcome Near Door Trying to Escape Fire

The charred body of William C. German, 90, was found Wednesday morning among the ruins of his home at Bushnellsville, state police reported.

Troopers said the body was found next to the door leading outside from the living room, indicating that the aged man had almost reached safety when he apparently was overcome by smoke.

German, a former Kingston resident who for many years was employed by the WiltwyeR Rural Cemetery, lived alone. His closest relatives are five grandsons.

The fire which destroyed German's home was discovered about 8:30 a. m. Wednesday by neighbors who observed smoke seeping from the windows.

Troopers said that several neighbors attempted to enter the building, but found its interior completely involved in flames.

Flames Spread

Phoenicia and Westkill fire departments were called, but were unable to save the building because of the headway made by the flames. The house was of two story frame construction.

Coroner Michael A. Galietta issued a verdict of accidental death following an investigation.

Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly and Cpl. Ray Dunn investigated for the state police.

Cause Not Announced

Troopers reported that the home had been heated by a kerosene burning range, but did not say definitely whether the fire originated from the range.

Funeral services for German will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., of this city on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

Guns Take Back Seat

Washington, March 20 (AP)—A Senate watchdog committee says a "don't disturb the civilian economy" policy dominates the nation's rearmament program. The result, it said, has been the production of "a small number of guns and a great amount of butter, with considerable number of lollipops thrown in."

Voters Make Demand Eisenhower Change Position, Think About Nomination Bid

Pleased About 'Ike'

100,000 Endorsements in Minnesota Main Factor

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, March 20 (AP) —Gen. Eisenhower said today he is re-examining his political position—an indication he may soon go home to campaign actively for the Republican nomination for president.

The general took note of the "mounting numbers of my fellow citizens who are voting to make me the Republican nominee." He said, in effect, the voters of New Hampshire and Minnesota "are forcing me to re-examine my personal position and past decision (not to campaign for the nomination)."

Taft Out in Jersey

Eisenhower issued his statement a few hours after two developments—Sen. Robert A. Taft withdrew from the New Jersey preferential primary, and President Truman said Eisenhower was at liberty to return home any time the general deems it safe and proper.

Eisenhower's statement, however, took no note of either of those developments. It was issued in answer to reporters' requests for comment on the Minnesota primary, where more than 100,000 voters took the trouble to write in Eisenhower's name as their choice for the Republican nomination.

The statement said:

"You gentlemen probably realize how astonished I was by the results of the Minnesota primary.

"The mounting numbers of my fellow citizens who are voting to make me the Republican nominee are forcing me to re-examine my personal position and past decision.

"I did not imagine that so many voters in Minnesota would make me a write-in candidate and, according to newspaper accounts, some of them had trouble with my name.

Use of 'Ike' Pleases Him

"I count it an additional compliment that some refused to be dismayed by the long Eisenhower name and simply wrote in 'Ike.'"

Eisenhower's reference to his "personal position and past decision" apparently referred to a statement he issued Jan. 7, the day after his backers announced they would enter him in the New Hampshire Republican primary.

Referring to that statement, made by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, head of the Eisenhower-for-President movement, Eisenhower said then that Lodge was correct in terming him a Republican and added:

"He was also correct in stating

Lights Approved

BPW Votes Installation at Browning Terrace, Deyo Street

The Board of Public Works approved the installation of three lights on Browning Terrace, one of the city's new street developments.

A large light will be placed at Miller's lane and Browning terrace and two other smaller lights will be installed at intervals on the street.

The board also voted to place a new light on Deyo street. All were recommended by R. L. Whitbeck, of the board's light committee.

On recommendation of City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, the board voted to pay $14,355.22 to contractor James Berardi for work done to date on the Cornell street and Grand street sewer projects.

A resolution by Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th ward, asking the board to repair or replace a section of damaged sidewalk at Marius street and Josephine avenue was filed for future consideration. Discussion on this indicated that repair of the walk appears not to be a city obligation. The resolution said a city snow plow had damaged the walk.

Also filed for further consideration was a resolution by Alderman Joseph Wenzel, fourth ward, asking the repair of Stuyvesant street from Hasbrouck to Maple street, and a section of Gross street.

The board adopted a resolution appointing Thomas J. Kearney to the position of acting motor equipment operator. This resolution was required by civil service regulations. Kearney has been employed on the above job for some time.

Four Are Injured in County As Roads Become Slushy

Two persons were hospitalized and at least four others received medical treatment as a result of automobile accidents in Ulster county on highways made slippery by Wednesday's fall of heavy, wet snow.

In one accident reported by troopers, a bus load of Wallkill Central School children escaped injury when a passenger car skidded into the bus at it left the school about 3:10 p. m.

John Leslie Gregg, 17, of Gardiner, told troopers he was driving south on Route 208 when he applied his brakes and skidded into the left front side of the Gaddefroy Car Company school bus operated by Walter A. Harris, 59, of Wallkill. No injuries were reported in that accident.

A head-on crash on Route 9W in Highland at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday sent the drivers of both vehicles to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, troopers said. They were Walter B. Ryerson, 62, of Marlborough, who received lacerations to the face and chest, and Douglas M. Crapster, Jr., 27, of Hyde Park, who received fractured ribs and a cut over his left eye, state police of the Highland station reported.

Richard King, 31, and Ashleigh M. Losee, 26, both of Salt Point, passengers in Crapser's automobile, were treated at the scene for injuries, troopers said. Ryerson told troopers a passing vehicle threw slush on his windshield, causing him to lose control of the car, according to the state police report, which said that the front ends of both vehicles were "demolished."

Held on License Charge

While troopers were investigating that accident, they reported

Experts Study Mines

Tokyo (AP) — Japanese experts, by request, are probing mines in the Philippines, Thailand and India, seeking ways of expanding production. The economic journal, Nihon Kebai, reported the calls on Japanese geologists and mining experts. One mining company promised to send its ace geologist to the Apari copper mine in the Philippines. When operated by the Japanese company during the Pacific war, it yielded 4,000 tons of ore monthly. Now the Philippine operator is seeking help to mine 1,200 tons a month.

Auto Mishaps Kill 2,101 in N. Y. State

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Automobile accidents took 2,101 lives in New York state in 1951 as motorists traveled a record 34.4 billion miles.

The State Motor Vehicle Bureau, in a report yesterday, noted that last year's mileage-death rate equaled the low record of 6.1 per 100 million miles set in 1950. However, the 2,101 fatalities in 1951 represented an increase of 5.3 per cent over the 1,996 deaths in 1950.

The national mileage-death rate last year was 7.7 as against 7.6 in 1950.

The state's record highway death toll of 3,101 was recorded in 1931.

Two Make Escape In Wine Keg Car

Vienna, Austria, March 20 (AP)—A Hungarian and his wife, who escaped their Communist homeland by hiding in a boxcar of wine barrels, are being held by police here for illegal entry into the American zone of Austria.

The couple started their daring six-day flight from a town near Budapest. Nestled among wine barrels consigned to Switzerland, they somehow were missed by Hungarian customs inspectors when the car crossed into Austria three days ago.

They remained in hiding through Austria's Russian zone. Yesterday, as the car rolled into the freight yards at Linz, they pounded on the sealed car and attracted the attention of railway workers who released them.

The pair said they planned their escape for a long time in hopes of reaching relatives in Canada.

Two Make Escape In Wine Keg Car

Vienna, Austria, March 20 (AP)—A Hungarian and his wife, who escaped their Communist homeland by hiding in a boxcar of wine barrels, are being held by police here for illegal entry into the American zone of Austria.

The couple started their daring six-day flight from a town near Budapest. Nestled among wine barrels consigned to Switzerland, they somehow were missed by Hungarian customs inspectors when the car crossed into Austria three days ago.

They remained in hiding through Austria's Russian zone. Yesterday, as the car rolled into the freight yards at Linz, they pounded on the sealed car and attracted the attention of railway workers who released them.

The pair said they planned their escape for a long time in hopes of reaching relatives in Canada.

The first chest protector was donned by a baseball player in 1885.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP) — People who complain of having a bad memory often merely are running away from life.

This is the conclusion of Dr. Bruno Furst, who has taught 25,000 people to remember better.

"With many people forgetting is a kind of escapism," he said. "If they are not satisfied in life, if they are discontented with their marriage,' they want to forget certain things. And this decreases their powers of memory generally."

Memory Needs Exercise

Dr. Furst is a specialist in putting muscles back on the memory power of people who want to remember better.

"Most intelligent people have the wrong conception of memory," he said. "They speak of a good memory or a bad memory. There is no such thing. Every person's memory is good in certain directions and poor in others. Like a muscle it can be improved by proper exercise."

Dr. Furst, a former criminal lawyer forced to flee Germany by the Nazi regime, recalls he had trouble "with what is called a bad memory when I was a student myself.

"That is why I went into this work. Today I have no trouble remembering anything I wish."

One of his own mental gymnastic feats is to glance through a deck of cards and then repeat them aloud in order. He believes practically anyone who will train his mind can do the same thing.

"William James, the psychologist, once said that people don't use one tenth of their real brain power," he remarked. "I think he was correct."

College Teaches System

The system he developed is now taught at several universities including Yale and Brooklyn College. It is built on the principles of concentration, observation, and the use of key symbols that have a power of association with the objects or persons to be remembered. His students range from housewives to top executives.

"The most general complaint people make is they can't remember names or faces, and this embarrasses them socially or in their jobs," he said. "But there is no reason why you cannot meet 30 complete strangers at a party and afterward recall them accurately by name and face."

As a matter of fact, that is one of the graduation tests for his students after completing his ten-week course.

Remembers Too Well

Dr. Furst, who has a formidable brow, has developed his own memory ability to the point where he has trouble finding anyone to join him in playing bridge, one of his hobbies. He remembers the cards too well.

The 61-year-old memory expert is also a professional graphologist, or handwriting analyst, star chess player, sleight-of-hand artist, and hypnotist. By mental concentration he can increase or slow the tempo of his own heart beat.

One of his personal brain exercises is to concentrate his attention for six minutes on the bare head of a pin. Think that is easy? Try it. The average man can't stare that long at a pretty pin-up picture without letting his mind wander.

Says Wives Need Memory

"The American housewife needs memory training even more than the people in professional or business life," said Dr. Furst.

"Her routine duties don't give her the mental problems which develop creative thinking. A survey I made showed that 80 out of 100 had to write down their shopping lists. The rest depended on memory, but 13 out of this 20 admitted that they sometimes forgot an item and had to return to the store for it."

But people, as he observed, usually concentrate their memory on what is closest to their heart. Did Dr. Furst ever hear of a housewife who forgot her wedding anniversary.

"Never," he admitted. "That is why more husbands would be happier with a little memory training."

EISENHOWER NOMINATION BID

General Eisenhower's victory over Senator Taft in the New Hampshire primary was decisive but not overwhelming. It will unquestionably encourage the drive to make him the GOP presidential nominee, and slow down the rush Taft has been making toward the same goal.

Let's try to look at this contest with the cold eye of the professional politician. It was the expert's advance view that Ike and Taft would run quite close in the New Hampshire popularity vote but that Eisenhower would win a substantial majority of the delegates, perhaps ten to Taft's four. Balloting for delegates was separate.

The professional opinion was also that Eisenhower would run best in the cities and Taft best in the country towns, though Ike was expected to make a good showing in rural areas, too. How good was the big puzzle?

Since the country towns normally account for roughly three-fourths of the New Hampshire primary vote, the answer to this puzzle was crucial.

With the results now in, it is apparent they contain some surprises for the professionals. First, the Eisenhower margin in the popularity contest was greater than expected. He drew around 55 per cent of the total Eisenhower-Taft vote. Moreover, he swept all 14 delegates.

Oddly, Ike lost Manchester, the biggest New Hampshire city, to Taft. And, again somewhat curiously, Taft did not run as strong as expected in the country towns.

Furthermore, bad weather did not have an especially dampening effect upon the vote turnout. As a matter of fact, the Republican vote ran upwards of 92,000, or about 50 per cent higher than the total in the 1948 New Hampshire primary.

It is too early for detailed study of these returns, but they may ultimately show that the large turnout was a big factor in the Eisenhower triumph. Even though he lost Manchester, he evidently did well in other cities in reasonably heavy polling. Add to that his better-than-anticipated showing in rural areas and you have a fair explanation of the outcome.

The test demonstrates that Eisenhower can get votes, as his backers claim. It does not prove that Taft cannot get votes. He entered the New Hampshire race late, and he was under the handicap of having all the party's top brass in the Ike camp, though he himself had the support of many lower-echelon professionals.

There are many other important battles still ahead. Eisenhower and Taft meet next in New Jersey April 15, and a week later Ike takes on Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota in the Pennsylvania primary. Meantime, Taft will have had a chance to display his strength under more favorable circumstances in Wisconsin, where Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren of California are his only competitors, and in Illinois, where just Stassen will challenge.

Nothing that occurred in New Hampshire detracts from the solid fact that Taft is far out in front in the struggle to line up actual convention delegates for the big test at Chicago July 7.

But while it cannot be said that the New Hampshire outcome arrests the Taft tide, it is the professional view that it will slow Taft down. From the Eisenhower standpoint, the important factor hereafter is momentum. If this victory can be duplicated with similar or greater conclusiveness in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and then later in Oregon, the general's forces may be well on the way toward building a real drive for him.

Since Taft has been virtually conceded the overwhelming bulk of Illinois' delegates, the senator is now in the position of having to ring up a resounding win in Wisconsin to keep from adding momentum to the Eisenhower push.

As the Eisenhower forces laid great stress on New Hampshire, so has Taft indicated he regards Wisconsin as the key to his campaign for the nomination. His supporters there now claim 22 to 24 of the 30 GOP delegates. Anything less than 20 would be taken as a fall-down. The heat has shifted from Eisenhower to Taft for the next few weeks.

The decision among competing Republicans has not yet been taken, nor even indicated. But the American people should welcome the fact that the race is at last out of the talking stage and into the realm of vote-counting action.

THE TEEN-AGERS

I listened to President Truman's speech to the editors of school newspapers. It was another opportunity lost to inspire a generation. I could not help wondering, as I listened about the confusions of our young in their associations with their elders. This is nothing new in human experience. I am sure that, as a boy, I could not understand why my elders took some things so seriously. As I look back upon it now, most of the questions they argued over have either disappeared altogether or have solved themselves: for instance, the high tariff, the gold standard, woman suffrage, women smoking in public places and the function of rouge and lipstick among decent people.

There were always, I am sure, boys and girls whose surplus energy got them into trouble with their elders. We did not call them juvenile delinquents then; rather the father whacked them effectively and if they did not run away from home, most of them came out all right. Often those who ran away did even better and came back as prodigals to pay off the mortgage. Some, of course, followed the primrose path and landed in jail or became politicians.

Surplus energy is tough on young people. A sandlot used to help kids and the American Legion is doing a fine job in reviving that institution. I recently came across Paul Whiteman's TV TEEN CLUB which gives boys and girls a chance to show what they can do. I recall in my childhood an effort to do that in which Charles Frohman was interested. It was the Children's Theatre on the lower East Side of New York, in the Educational Alliance. Other boys and girls tried out at amateur night at Miner's on the Bowery. Some of our great actors of today started there.

Paul Whiteman does it on a television show and after the program, there is a dance for teenagers in the Philadelphia Town Hall Ballroom. I am told that 600,000 youngsters have taken part in these activities which started as weekend dances and entertainment in Lambertville, New Jersey.

I have only met Paul Whiteman once and then to ask him about this interest of his in finding an outlet for the energy of young people through music and the dance. And having told a couple of friends of mine—the most unlikely people I know—that I was going to talk to Whiteman, I discovered that both of them had been pupils of his father, Wilberforce J. Whiteman in Denver, who apparently had long ago conceived the idea that music is not only orderly sound emitted for a purpose, but that it can, for young people, be a substitute for normal wickedness.

In a word, parents have to recognize that boys and girls in their teens are adventuresome, want to try things out, and that they like to wander from the parental hearth—not too far, but far enough to satisfy curiosity.

It is not difficult for children to make themselves happy. They do it when they giggle; they do it when they push each other about. They do it in competitive play. Most children love crowds, and therefore they go in gangs. Some of the gangs are good because they only involve co-operative play; some become disastrous because they involve the child in crime.

I know both kinds of gangs, not as an adult investigator but when I was a child in the slums. The good gangs played on the streets; the bad ones played on the same streets. And we all came from the same families. All my life I have wondered why one boy stays straight and another crosses the line to crime. In early years, each was what parents call a "good boy." I have seen these "good boys" become "bad boys."

In my day, the social settlements made a tremendous difference, as did the churches. Parents were working 12 and 14 hours a day and had a tough time. The Music School Settlement in New York offered a wonderful opportunity for children, but it was not on the mass scale of Whiteman's undertaking. The problem, however, is the same—to offer an outlet for the surplus energy of boys and girls, particularly the brighter and more energetic ones, who are bored by unsatisfying activity.

That Body of Yours

TRAINING IN PSYCHOTHERAPY

There was a time, not many years ago, when, if a patient consulting his physician talked or behaved a little strangely, the physician referred him to a neurologist or nerve specialist. This was before the time of our modern psychiatrists.

A neurologist is a specialist who works on the brain, spinal cord and nerves of the body from the standpoint of their structure. The psychiatrist is interested particularly in the behavior of the patient and tries to find out why the patient behaves in an odd manner.

In our upset world, there is naturally an increasing number of patients who do not behave in a normal manner. This is not from any lack of brain power, but from a lack of being able to get along well with others.

So great is the present demand for psychiatrists that the medical profession is realizing that the only way to meet the situation is to train the general physician in the knowledge of practical psychiatry.

We all know that our family physician, with all his years of treating all the members of a family, has learned much about the family's normal and abnormal behavior.

In The Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Eugene Ziskind, Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine (Psychiatry and Neurology), University of Southern California, states that every physician should be trained in psychotherapy and expect to use it in his practice. This psychotherapy (treatment of the effects of the emotions of the individual's behavior) will not be the same as that of a psychiatrist but rather a form of treatment modified to the special needs of the general practitioner. It is generally admitted that about one-third of the patients seen by physicians (general and specialists) have upsetting symptoms caused by emotional disturbances, one-third have changes in the body's working processes, and the other one-third have both.

The general practitioner sees the patient first. If he is equipped by special study of psychiatry, he will be able to straighten out the "tangled skein" in the patient's mind. For this reason emphasis must be placed on the fact that treatment in this first stage of emotional illness is not for the psychiatrist to administer, for at this early stage the great bulk of patients would resent being referred to a psychiatrist.

And, if the family doctor, after careful examination, points out how the emotions are causing the symptoms as no organic disease is present, his reassurance may make consultation with psychiatrist unnecessary.

"That's Why We Have Spring Training"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Two capitol cloakroom maneuvers recently have illustrated why the public gets disillusioned over the double-morality standard of Congress.

Maneuver No. 1 — Was the strategy used by Republicans and southern Democrats to try to kill the internal revenue reform bill putting tax collectors under civil service.

Originally proposed by Herbert Hoover, this reform should have had 100 per cent GOP backing. Instead, the cloak-room strategy of Republican leaders was to pressure all senators not up for re-election this year to vote against it.

Behind the strategy was the fact that GOP leaders knew the public was for the tax reform. They also knew that any Republican senator facing election this year would have to vote for the reform. But after a year or so they figured the public would forget.

That was why the heat was put on Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, an Eisenhower man, to vote with the Old Guard. Only recently elected, leaders figured Carlson could weather public reaction, and the public would have time to forget before his re-election in 1956. Though most Eisenhower senators voted for the tax reform, Carlson knuckled under to GOP leaders.

That was also why such Old Guard Republicans as Brewster of Maine and Bricker of Ohio voted against the GOP leadership. They are up for re-election this fall, and a vote against tax reform might have hurt their chances.

That was also why the heat was put on Nebraska's newly appointed Fred Seaton. Since he is not running for re-election, colleagues figured he had nothing to lose. However, Seaton, a forthright newspaper publisher and one of the best new members of the Senate, voted his convictions—for taking tax collection out of politics.

Clean-Up Team

The senators who really put across the tax-reform were a team of three young freshmen; Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, Blair Moody of Michigan, and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, all Democrats. These three youngsters, serving their first terms in the Senate, hammered home the point that Congress couldn't merely talk about corruption, it had to clean up corruption.

In doing so they risked the undying enmity of old-timers like George of Georgia and other members of the aristocratic Senate Finance Committee—one of the most powerful bodies in Congress. Its members not only write the tax laws but have a habit of black-balling anyone who seeks membership on their committee who does not agree with them.

However, the young clean-up team of freshmen Moody, Monroney and Humphrey not only opposed them but slapped them down to resounding defeat.

Maneuver No. 2 — Was the strategy of certain senators in attacking corruption clean-up man Newbold Morris. Basically, this was the strategy of smearing Morris before Morris could smear them; and behind this is the fact that you can investigate everyone in Washington—provided you don't investigate a member of that exclusive club called Congress.

One solon who learned this lesson the hard way, and who participated in the Newbold Morris smearing, is GOP Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan.

As a member of the old Senate Investigating Committee, Ferguson started a probe of the commodity speculation of Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. Shortly thereafter Thomas wrote Ferguson a pungent, private letter in which he warned the Michigan senator to lay off or he, Thomas, would expose certain operations of Ferguson's son-in-law with Chrysler Airtemp Sales Corporation; also insinuated that ladies in the Ferguson family had received presents of fur coats.

"You will no doubt be surprised to know that among my letters and reports," wrote Senator Thomas, ". . . charges have been made that certain wealthy automobile interests, acting through lady members of their inside organizations have made gifts of valuable coats, dresses and other items to certain members of your family.

"I have personally written this note in order to keep it strictly private," Senator Thomas concluded. "However, for fear I may hereafter need a copy, I have had the sheets photostated, but I do not plan to make the contents public unless I deem the public interest will be served thereby."

Hot Potato

This was enough for Senator Ferguson of Michigan. He promptly dropped the probe of his fellow member of the Senate club.

However, the charges made by Senator Thomas against Ferguson never have been probed, including Ferguson's votes for the automobile industry and the favors extended to his son-in-law by Chrysler, and a stock interest by Mrs. Ferguson in the Chrysler Airtemp sales agency.

Various other congressmen have interesting records the public has a right to know something about, which is the real reason for the move to deny Newbold Morris the power of subpoena.

The public has a right to know, for instance, about the peculiar operations of Congressman Frank Boykin of Alabama in getting a $750,000 RFC loan for the Mobile Paper Co., after which he and his four children showed up with stock in that company.

The public also has a right to know about the tax influence of GOP Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire regarding the $7,000,000 tax case of a Baltimore liquor dealer, at which time Bridges proposed a salary increase for the man he asked to go easy on the case — chief Internal Revenue counsel Charles Oliphant. Immediately following publication of these facts, Republican senators confirmed their belief in a double-morality standard for Congress by electing Bridges Republican leader.

But while Congress reserves the right to investigate every other official in Washington, it wants no one investigating it. And word has got out that Newbold Morris was just foolhardy enough to turn the spotlight not merely on the bureaucrats but on Congress. That's the chief reason why he got it in the neck.

Note—Senators probing Morris never delved into the all-important fact that the Chinese shipping company he headed was financed almost entirely by Chiang Kai-shek Nationalists. It was they who financed and condoned sending cargoes to Communist China.

Write-in by Minnesota Voters Demonstrates Need for Preference Primary

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 20 — The American people are being given a demonstration of why it is becoming increasingly important for Congress to consider the idea of a nation-wide presidential preference primary.

The "write-in" by voters on both the Republican and Democratic sides in Minnesota shows that the people will not be denied an opportunity to participate in the selection of party nominees and that they are tired of a system which permits tricks and legal devices to keep prominent names off the ballot.

There were approximately 175,000 "write-ins" from both Democratic and Republican voters as against 250,000 votes for Humphrey, Stassen and Slettedahl, whose names were the only ones on the ballot. While the totals represent a record in Minnesota, there have been other instances in other states where the same thing has occurred, but nation-wide attention has never before been focused so much on the true significance of that form of expression.

The people have not yet expressed themselves on an even more vital aspect—namely, where the delegates to the national convention are selected by political cliques or organizations and ignore the popular preference. The American people are slowly discovering that, in the process of selecting a president, they have had very little to say about choosing the two major-party nominees and they must vote for one or the other without having really been able to pick some one else as the candidate of their party for the final balloting.

The educational process in America is sometimes stimulated by a concrete example of how something ought not to be done. The nominating machinery in the past has often been manipulated by bosses and organizations. The 1952 pre-convention campaign is being watched more closely than any other in the past half-century. Whether it is because means of communication are better, or because the contests are being more vigorously fought than heretofore with a maximum of publicity and discussion, the fact remains that the action of the delegates who go to the national conventions this year will be scrutinized to determine whether they carry out the will of the people of their states.

The Minnesota primary went to Harold Stassen on the Republican side. Being a "favorite son" and a former governor of the state, it was natural for him to top all others. His was the only prominent name on the Republican ballot due to technicalities or the political etiquette which caused the Taft supporters to discourage a contest with a "favorite son."

But nevertheless, the "write-in" of more than 110,000 votes by the followers of Eisenhower and around 25,000 by Taft supporters is an indication that the people really wanted an opportunity to express themselves on all the prominent personalities and should have been given that opportunity through a printed ballot. Not everybody knew that a "write-in" was lawful.

In the case of the Minnesota primary, it was possible for the backers of certain candidates to withdraw their names before the ballot was printed. All this tends only to confuse the issue. In a nation-wide primary, properly set up, there would not be any chance for picking and choosing certain states for a battleground. The names of all those qualified to enter could be placed on the national ballot by a Federal law and the national party conventions could then ratify the actual selection so that there would be no issue of constitutionality.

Various proposals for a nation-wide primary to select a President and Vice-President are before Congress, but there are many points that would have to be ironed out before the nation-wide preference system could overcome some of the devices that are being used in state primaries to interfere with the free choice of the people. But eventually the American people are going to insist on having more to say about who the two men coming up for election in November should be. To be forced to choose between two Presidential nominees neither of whom is the free choice of the people doesn't satisfy the requirements of a true system of representative government.

As for the manner of selecting the Vice-President, this is the worst defect of the present system. Practically no voting is done in the primaries for the Vice-President nominee, yet three times in the last fifty years a Vice-President has become President and influenced to a remarkable extent the history of the United States.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, March 19—The National Catholic Welfare Conference has issued from its headquarters in Washington a statement suggesting that I faked a recent story from Rome concerning a discussion of American unionism with a dignitary of the church which took place by formal arrangement in the Vatican. This statement is a violation of the Eighth Commandment, for it accuses me of an act which is a crime against the code of my profession, namely faking.

I do not know how many official Catholic publications have published this "release," but the head on the item as published in the Catholic Transcript, the official organ of the Diocese of Hartford, Conn., is appropriate to the text. That head says: "Vatican spokesmen deny Pegler talked to 'high authority'."

I say I did and I repeat my original statement that my informant is well known in the Vatican as a specialist in labor matters and that he authorized me to designate him as the "highest authority." The NCWC agents are either liars or such bad reporters that they cannot verify a fact which easily could be verified on their own beat, where they have the most intimate entree.

The first paragraph of the story in the Hartford Transcript says: "Official sources at the Vatican do not know the identity of the so-called Vatican 'official' Westbrook Pegler says he talked with in Rome concerning labor matters in the United States and these same sources disavow any Vatican association with the Pegler attacks on U. S. unions and union leaders."

I withheld the name of the official at his request. This was a condition of the interview interposed when we were well launched in our conversation. But that is common practice at The Vatican and I observe that the correspondent of the NCWC refrains from naming his "official sources."

I trust that you will note also the slippery cunning in this text in reporting that "official sources" did not know who my authority was. That simply means that some two or more individuals were found in a large organization who could truthfully say that they did not know who this person was. This easily could be so. But the effect and the intention are to insinuate that I talked to some underling without any authority, if indeed, I did not fake the story entirely.

The second thought in the paragraph, the disavowal of "any Vatican association" with my own attacks on American unions and union "leaders," is a familiar trick of dishonest debaters. I did not "associate" The Vatican with my own attacks, and the NCWC knows it. I took responsibility for my statements concerning these great, massive corruptions and I plainly said in the dispatch that my statements surprised the authority who had been led to believe that American unions were "the very model of democratic rule." There is no excuse for the false insinuation that I represented my own plain statements as the sentiments of The Vatican or of any person in The Vatican.

Furthermore, I have frequently rejected the false and dishonest use of the word "leader" as a title for the American union boss, and the NCWC is aware of that. So the statement lacks honesty again in applying this misleading complimentary term to our goon fuehrers as though I had conceded that they were in fact leaders. I referred to them in this article as "union officials" and "unioneers," but never have I called them "leaders" and I never will. They are drivers, autocrats and tyrants and many of them are abominable criminals as the NCWC and the Hartford Transcript have every facility for knowing.

"The Transcript has been advised of these facts by the NCWC News Service in Washington," the item continues. "The news service has informed the Transcript that following inquiries by the NCWC Rome bureau, 'official sources at the Vatican stated categorically that no Holy See official has been authorized to treat with anyone concerning union problems or personalities in the United States'."

That statement is false in general and in particular. An official is a person holding an office. The term "to treat with" means to discuss. Therefore, we have a head-on issue of veracity. There is no room for misunderstanding.

EISENHOWER NOMINATION BID

General Eisenhower's victory over Senator Taft in the New Hampshire primary was decisive but not overwhelming. It will unquestionably encourage the drive to make him the GOP presidential nominee, and slow down the rush Taft has been making toward the same goal.

Let's try to look at this contest with the cold eye of the professional politician. It was the expert's advance view that Ike and Taft would run quite close in the New Hampshire popularity vote but that Eisenhower would win a substantial majority of the delegates, perhaps ten to Taft's four. Balloting for delegates was separate.

The professional opinion was also that Eisenhower would run best in the cities and Taft best in the country towns, though Ike was expected to make a good showing in rural areas, too. How good was the big puzzle?

Since the country towns normally account for roughly three-fourths of the New Hampshire primary vote, the answer to this puzzle was crucial.

With the results now in, it is apparent they contain some surprises for the professionals. First, the Eisenhower margin in the popularity contest was greater than expected. He drew around 55 per cent of the total Eisenhower-Taft vote. Moreover, he swept all 14 delegates.

Oddly, Ike lost Manchester, the biggest New Hampshire city, to Taft. And, again somewhat curiously, Taft did not run as strong as expected in the country towns.

Furthermore, bad weather did not have an especially dampening effect upon the vote turnout. As a matter of fact, the Republican vote ran upwards of 92,000, or about 50 per cent higher than the total in the 1948 New Hampshire primary.

It is too early for detailed study of these returns, but they may ultimately show that the large turnout was a big factor in the Eisenhower triumph. Even though he lost Manchester, he evidently did well in other cities in reasonably heavy polling. Add to that his better-than-anticipated showing in rural areas and you have a fair explanation of the outcome.

The test demonstrates that Eisenhower can get votes, as his backers claim. It does not prove that Taft cannot get votes. He entered the New Hampshire race late, and he was under the handicap of having all the party's top brass in the Ike camp, though he himself had the support of many lower-echelon professionals.

There are many other important battles still ahead. Eisenhower and Taft meet next in New Jersey April 15, and a week later Ike takes on Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota in the Pennsylvania primary. Meantime, Taft will have had a chance to display his strength under more favorable circumstances in Wisconsin, where Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren of California are his only competitors, and in Illinois, where just Stassen will challenge.

Nothing that occurred in New Hampshire detracts from the solid fact that Taft is far out in front in the struggle to line up actual convention delegates for the big test at Chicago July 7.

But while it cannot be said that the New Hampshire outcome arrests the Taft tide, it is the professional view that it will slow Taft down. From the Eisenhower standpoint, the important factor hereafter is momentum. If this victory can be duplicated with similar or greater conclusiveness in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and then later in Oregon, the general's forces may be well on the way toward building a real drive for him.

Since Taft has been virtually conceded the overwhelming bulk of Illinois' delegates, the senator is now in the position of having to ring up a resounding win in Wisconsin to keep from adding momentum to the Eisenhower push.

As the Eisenhower forces laid great stress on New Hampshire, so has Taft indicated he regards Wisconsin as the key to his campaign for the nomination. His supporters there now claim 22 to 24 of the 30 GOP delegates. Anything less than 20 would be taken as a fall-down. The heat has shifted from Eisenhower to Taft for the next few weeks.

The decision among competing Republicans has not yet been taken, nor even indicated. But the American people should welcome the fact that the race is at last out of the talking stage and into the realm of vote-counting action.

We did not call them juvenile delinquents then; rather the father whacked them effectively and if they did not run away from home, most of them came out all right. Often those who ran away did even better and came back as prodigals to pay off the mortgage. Some, of course, followed the primrose path and landed in jail or became politicians.

Surplus energy is tough on young people. A sandlot used to help kids and the American Legion is doing a fine job in reviving that institution. I recently came across Paul Whiteman's TV TEEN CLUB which gives boys and girls a chance to show what they can do. I recall in my childhood an effort to do that in which Charles Frohman was interested. It was the Children's Theatre on the lower East Side of New York, in the Educational Alliance. Other boys and girls tried out at amateur night at Miner's on the Bowery. Some of our great actors of today started there.

Paul Whiteman does it on a television show and after the program, there is a dance for teen-agers in the Philadelphia Town Hall Ballroom. I am told that 600,000 youngsters have taken part in these activities which started as weekend dances and entertainment in Lambertville, New Jersey.

I have only met Paul Whiteman once and then to ask him about this interest of his in finding an outlet for the energy of young people through music and the dance. And having told a couple of friends of mine—the most unlikely people I know—that I was going to talk to Whiteman, I discovered that both of them had been pupils of his father, Wilberforce J. Whiteman in Denver, who apparently had long ago conceived the idea that music is not only orderly sound emitted for a purpose, but that it can, for young people, be a substitute for normal wickedness.

In a word, parents have to recognize that boys and girls in their teens are adventuresome, want to try things out, and that they like to wander from the parental hearth—not too far, but far enough to satisfy curiosity.

It is not difficult for children to make themselves happy. They do it when they giggle; they do it when they push each other about. They do it in competitive play. Most children love crowds, and therefore they go in gangs. Some of the gangs are good because they only involve co-operative play; some become disastrous because they involve the child in crime.

I know both kinds of gangs, not as an adult investigator but when I was a child in the slums. The good gangs played on the streets; the bad ones played on the same streets. And we all came from the same families. All my life I have wondered why one boy stays straight and another crosses the line to crime. In early years, each was what parents call a "good boy." I have seen these "good boys" become "bad boys."

In my day, the social settlements made a tremendous difference, as did the churches. Parents were working 12 and 14 hours a day and had a tough time. The Music School Settlement in New York offered a wonderful opportunity for children, but it was not on the mass scale of Whiteman's undertaking. The problem, however, is the same—to offer an outlet for the surplus energy of boys and girls, particularly the brighter and more energetic ones, who are bored by unsatisfying activity.

That Body of Yours

TRAINING IN PSYCHOTHERAPY

There was a time, not many years ago, when, if a patient consulting his physician talked or behaved a little strangely, the physician referred him to a neurologist or nerve specialist. This was before the time of our modern psychiatrists.

A neurologist is a specialist who works on the brain, spinal cord and nerves of the body from the standpoint of their structure. The psychiatist is interested particularly in the behavior of the patient and tries to find out why the patient behaves in an odd manner.

In our upset world, there is naturally an increasing number of patients who do not behave in a normal manner. This is not from any lack of brain power, but from a lack of being able to get along well with others.

So great is the present demand for psychiatrists that the medical profession is realizing that the only way to meet the situation is to train the general physician in the knowledge of practical psychiatry.

We all know that our family physician, with all his years of treating all the members of a family, has learned much about the family's normal and abnormal behavior.

In The Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Eugene Ziskind, Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine (Psychiatry and Neurology), University of Southern California, states that every physician should be trained in psychotherapy and expect to use it in his practice. This psychotherapy (treatment of the effects of the emotions of the individual's behavior) will not be the same as that of a psychiatrist but rather a form of treatment modified to the special needs of the general practitioner. It is generally admitted that about one-third of the patients seen by physicians (general and specialists) have upsetting symptoms caused by emotional disturbances, one-third have changes in the body's working processes, and the other one-third have both.

The general practitioner sees the patient first. If he is equipped by special study of psychiatry, he will be able to straighten out the "tangled skein" in the patient's mind. For this reason emphasis must be placed on the fact that treatment in this first stage of emotional illness is not for the psychiatrist to administer, for at this early stage the great bulk of patients would resent being referred to a psychiatrist.

And, if the family doctor, after careful examination, points out how the emotions are causing the symptoms as no organic disease is present, his reassurance may make consultation with psychiatrist unnecessary.

"That's Why We Have Spring Training"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Two capitol cloakroom maneuvers recently have illustrated why the public gets disillusioned over the double-morality standard of Congress.

Maneuver No. 1 — Was the strategy used by Republicans and southern Democrats to try to kill the internal revenue reform bill putting tax collectors under civil service.

Originally proposed by Herbert Hoover, this reform should have had 100 per cent GOP backing. Instead, the cloak-room strategy of Republican leaders was to pressure all senators not up for re-election this year to vote against it.

Behind the strategy was the fact that GOP leaders knew the public was for the tax reform. They also knew that any Republican senator facing election this year would have to vote for the reform. But after a year or so they figured the public would forget.

That was why the heat was put on Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, an Eisenhower man, to vote with the Old Guard. Only recently elected, leaders figured Carlson could weather public reaction, and the public would have time to forget before his re-election in 1956. Though most Eisenhower senators voted for the tax reform, Carlson knuckled under to GOP leaders.

That was also why such Old Guard Republicans as Brewster of Maine and Bricker of Ohio voted against the GOP leadership. They are up for re-election this fall, and a vote against tax reform might have hurt their chances.

That was also why the heat was put on Nebraska's newly appointed Fred Seaton. Since he is not running for re-election, colleagues figured he had nothing to lose. However, Seaton, a forthright newspaper publisher and one of the best new members of the Senate, voted his convictions—for taking tax collection out of politics.

Clean-Up Team

The senators who really put across the tax-reform were a team of three young freshmen; Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, Blair Moody of Michigan, and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, all Democrats. These three youngsters, serving their first terms in the Senate, hammered home the point that Congress couldn't merely talk about corruption, it had to clean up corruption.

In doing so they risked the undying enmity of old-timers like George of Georgia and other members of the aristocratic Senate Finance Committee—one of the most powerful bodies in Congress. Its members not only write the tax laws but have a habit of black-balling anyone who seeks membership on their committee who does not agree with them.

However, the young clean-up team of freshmen Moody, Monroney and Humphrey not only opposed them but slapped them down to resounding defeat.

Maneuver No. 2 — Was the strategy of certain senators in attacking corruption clean-up man Newbold Morris. Basically, this was the strategy of smearing Morris before Morris could smear them; and behind this is the fact that you can investigate everyone in Washington—provided you don't investigate a member of that exclusive club called Congress.

One solon who learned this lesson the hard way, and who participated in the Newbold Morris smearing, is GOP Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan.

As a member of the old Senate Investigating Committee, Ferguson started a probe of the commodity speculation of Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. Shortly thereafter Thomas wrote Ferguson a pungent, private letter in which he warned the Michigan senator to lay off or he, Thomas, would expose certain operations of Ferguson's son-in-law with Chrysler Airtemp Sales Corporation; also insinuated that ladies in the Ferguson family had received presents of fur coats.

"You will no doubt be surprised to know that among my letters and reports," wrote Senator Thomas, ". . . charges have been made that certain wealthy automobile interests, acting through lady members of their inside organizations have made gifts of valuable coats, dresses and other items to certain members of your family.

"I have personally written this note in order to keep it strictly private," Senator Thomas concluded. "However, for fear I may hereafter need a copy, I have had the sheets photostated, but I do not plan to make the contents public unless I deem the public interest will be served thereby."

Hot Potato

This was enough for Senator Ferguson of Michigan. He promptly dropped the probe of his fellow member of the Senate club.

However, the charges made by Senator Thomas against Ferguson never have been probed, including Ferguson's votes for the automobile industry and the favors extended to his son-in-law by Chrysler, and a stock interest by Mrs. Ferguson in the Chrysler Airtemp sales agency.

Various other congressmen have interesting records the public has a right to know something about, which is the real reason for the move to deny Newbold Morris the power of subpoena.

The public has a right to know, for instance, about the peculiar operations of Congressman Frank Boykin of Alabama in getting a $750,000 RFC loan for the Mobile Paper Co., after which he and his four children showed up with stock in that company.

The public also has a right to know about the tax influence of GOP Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire regarding the $7,000,000 tax case of a Baltimore liquor dealer, at which time Bridges proposed a salary increase for the man he asked to go easy on the case — chief Internal Revenue counsel Charles Oliphant. Immediately following publication of these facts, Republican senators confirmed their belief in a double-morality standard for Congress by electing Bridges Republican leader.

But while Congress reserves the right to investigate every other official in Washington, it wants no one investigating it. And word has got out that Newbold Morris was just foolhardy enough to turn the spotlight not merely on the bureaucrats but on Congress. That's the chief reason why he got it in the neck.

Note—Senators probing Morris never delved into the all-important fact that the Chinese shipping company he headed was financed almost entirely by Chiang Kai-shek Nationalists. It was they who financed and condoned sending cargoes to Communist China.

Write-in by Minnesota Voters Demonstrates Need for Preference Primary

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 20 — The American people are being given a demonstration of why it is becoming increasingly important for Congress to consider the idea of a nation-wide presidential preference primary.

The "write-in" by voters on both the Republican and Democratic sides in Minnesota shows that the people will not be denied an opportunity to participate in the selection of party nominees and that they are tired of a system which permits tricks and legal devices to keep prominent names off the ballot.

There were approximately 175,000 "write-ins" from both Democratic and Republican voters as against 250,000 votes for Humphrey, Stassen and Slettedahl, whose names were the only ones on the ballot. While the totals represent a record in Minnesota, there have been other instances in other states where the same thing has occurred, but nation-wide attention has never before been focused so much on the true significance of that form of expression.

The people have not yet expressed themselves on an even more vital aspect—namely, where the delegates to the national convention are selected by political cliques or organizations and ignore the popular preference. The American people are slowly discovering that, in the process of selecting a president, they have had very little to say about choosing the two major-party nominees and they must vote for one or the other without having really been able to pick some one else as the candidate of their party for the final balloting.

The educational process in America is sometimes stimulated by a concrete example of how something ought not to be done. The nominating machinery in the past has often been manipulated by bosses and organizations. The 1952 pre-convention campaign is being watched more closely than any other in the past half-century. Whether it is because means of communication are better, or because the contests are being more vigorously fought than heretofore with a maximum of publicity and discussion, the fact remains that the action of the delegates who go to the national conventions this year will be scrutinized to determine whether they carry out the will of the people of their states.

The Minnesota primary went to Harold Stassen on the Republican side. Being a "favorite son" and a former governor of the state, it was natural for him to top all others. His was the only prominent name on the Republican ballot due to technicalities or the political etiquette which caused the Taft supporters to discourage a contest with a "favorite son."

But nevertheless, the "write-in" of more than 110,000 votes by the followers of Eisenhower and around 25,000 by Taft supporters is an indication that the people really wanted an opportunity to express themselves on all the prominent personalities and should have been given that opportunity through a printed ballot. Not everybody knew that a "write-in" was lawful.

In the case of the Minnesota primary, it was possible for the backers of certain candidates to withdraw their names before the ballot was printed. All this tends only to confuse the issue. In a nation-wide primary, properly set up, there would not be any chance for picking and choosing certain states for a battleground. The names of all those qualified to enter could be placed on the national ballot by a Federal law and the national party conventions could then ratify the actual selection so that there would be no issue of constitutionality.

Various proposals for a nation-wide primary to select a President and Vice-President are before Congress, but there are many points that would have to be ironed out before the nation-wide preference system could overcome some of the devices that are being used in state primaries to interfere with the free choice of the people. But eventually the American people are going to insist on having more to say about who the two men coming up for election in November should be. To be forced to choose between two Presidential nominees neither of whom is the free choice of the people doesn't satisfy the requirements of a true system of representative government.

As for the manner of selecting the Vice-President, this is the worst defect of the present system. Practically no voting is done in the primaries for the Vice-President nominee, yet three times in the last fifty years a Vice-President has become President and influenced to a remarkable extent the history of the United States.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, March 19—The National Catholic Welfare Conference has issued from its headquarters in Washington a statement suggesting that I faked a recent story from Rome concerning a discussion of American unionism with a dignitary of the church which took place by formal arrangement in the Vatican. This statement is a violation of the Eighth Commandment, for it accuses me of an act which is a crime against the code of my profession, namely faking.

I do not know how many official Catholic publications have published this "release," but the head on the item as published in the Catholic Transcript, the official organ of the Diocese of Hartford, Conn., is appropriate to the text. That head says: "Vatican spokesmen deny Pegler talked to 'high authority'."

I say I did and I repeat my original statement that my informant is well known in the Vatican as a specialist in labor matters and that he authorized me to designate him as the "highest authority." The NCWC agents are either liars or such bad reporters that they cannot verify a fact which easily could be verified on their own beat, where they have the most intimate entree.

The first paragraph of the story in the Hartford Transcript says: "Official sources at the Vatican do not know the identity of the so-called Vatican 'official' Westbrook Pegler says he talked with in Rome concerning labor matters in the United States and these same sources disavow any Vatican association with the Pegler attacks on U. S. unions and union leaders."

I withheld the name of the official at his request. This was a condition of the interview interposed when we were well launched in our conversation. But that is common practice at The Vatican and I observe that the correspondent of the NCWC refrains from naming his "official sources."

I trust that you will note also the slippery cunning in this text in reporting that "official sources" did not know who my authority was. That simply means that some two or more individuals were found in a large organization who could truthfully say that they did not know who this person was. This easily could be so. But the effect and the intention are to insinuate that I talked to some underling without any authority, if indeed, I did not fake the story entirely.

The second thought in the paragraph, the disavowal of "any Vatican association" with my own attacks on American unions and union "leaders," is a familiar trick of dishonest debaters. I did not "associate" The Vatican with my own attacks, and the NCWC knows it. I took responsibility for my statements concerning these great, massive corruptions and I plainly said in the dispatch that my statements surprised the authority who had been led to believe that American unions were "the very model of democratic rule." There is no excuse for the false insinuation that I represented my own plain statements as the sentiments of The Vatican or of any person in The Vatican.

Furthermore, I have frequently rejected the false and dishonest use of the word "leader" as a title for the American union boss, and the NCWC is aware of that. So the statement lacks honesty again in applying this misleading complimentary term to our goon fuehrers as though I had conceded that they were in fact leaders. I referred to them in this article as "union officials" and "unioneers," but never have I called them "leaders" and I never will. They are drivers, autocrats and tyrants and many of them are abominable criminals as the NCWC and the Hartford Transcript have every facility for knowing.

"The Transcript has been advised of these facts by the NCWC News Service in Washington," the item continues. "The news service has informed the Transcript that following inquiries by the NCWC Rome bureau, 'official sources at the Vatican stated categorically that no Holy See official has been authorized to treat with anyone concerning union problems or personalities in the United States'."

That statement is false in general and in particular. An official is a person holding an office. The term "to treat with" means to discuss. Therefore, we have a head-on issue of veracity. There is no room for misunderstanding.

Either I lie, the "official sources" lied or the NCWC Rome correspondent lied. I will stake my word against the word of any man, whatever his office. I note that the NCWC Rome correspondent, like his "official sources," is anonymous.

The personage with whom I conversed repeatedly asked me to write a survey of my charges against American unionism and individual union bosses for the information of the Holy Father. I agreed to do so.

Before writing this reply I consulted a prominent priest who is noted for his strict morality in all matters including some in which others sometimes compromise. He said this sort of thing was a familiar device and told me there was a distinction between an official and perfunctory denial of a fact and a false statement. He did not endorse this distinction himself, but said it existed in some quarters. A prominent Catholic layman, who is editor of an official diocesan publication, expressed a similar opinion but in other words.

I am gratified to have touched this nerve. It is high time that the double standard of morals, the one for unions and unioneers, the other for ordinary persons, was either avowed and defended or repudiated and condemned.

When the Eastern Tournament begins in New York this Sunday, Alexander Nusinoff will be one of the players to watch. He recently became a Life Master (the highest ranking given by the American Contract Bridge League) after only a few years of tournament play.

In the hand shown today, Nusinoff came up with a defensive play that produced a fine score. Nusinoff held the East hand, so keep your eye on that hand and see if you can spot the right play ahead of time.

West opened the jack of hearts, and East took the ace. East returned the three of diamonds, allowing West to take two tricks in that suit. West then returned a third diamond, and East. . . .Are you ready with that fine defensive play?

Nusinoff ruffed that third diamond with the king of spades. This play forced declarer to lose a trump trick.

South had to over-ruff with the ace, and now he could take the jack and queen of spades, but West was sure to win a trump trick with his ten.

Now see what happens if East ruffs with the seven of spades instead of with the king. South over-ruffs with the nine of spades, enters dummy with a heart, and leads a low trump towards the ace-jack. East has to play his king, of course, and South can draw three rounds of trumps with the ace, jack, and queen.

In short, South loses no trump trick when the hand is played that way, and he therefore makes his game contract.

Truman Leaves

could use his own judgment as to when to return.

When it is proper and safe for him to return he is at liberty to do so, the President said.

Some Republicans backing Eisenhower for their party's presidential nomination have been urging that he come home for speeches on issues of the day.

The latest expression from Eisenhower on this was in a letter he wrote March 10 to a group of 19 GOP House members who asked him to return.

Eisenhower told them that although he is "not indispensable" at European defense headquarters, he feels he cannot quit his post "during the next few months" to campaign for the presidency.

Eisenhower wrote that "in the absence of a compelling call or relief by higher authority I cannot see in any personal or political circumstances a sufficient warrant for me to leave this assignment during the immediate future." He promised, however, to "regularly re-examine my position."

Primaries in Picture Now

This letter was written before his sweep in the presidential preference primary in New Hampshire. Since then, the Eisenhower-for-President movement has had another filip from the big write-in vote for him in last Tuesday's Minnesota primary.

Reporters at Truman's news conference pressed him for comment on the reason for McKinney's optimism yesterday on prospects for an early settlement of the Korean situation.

The President replied, somewhat sharply, that he has never commented on Korean developments at a news conference.

Any comment from here might upset the apple cart, Truman added.

A reporter remarked that McKinney had said he expected a decision by May 15 on the President's political plans.

Truman said he will decide whether he will seek re-election and will pick his own time and place for his announcement.

Primaries Force

that I would not seek nomination to political office."

He also said in his January 7 statement that "in the absence of a clear-cut call to political duty, I shall continue to devote my full attention and energies to the performance of the vital task to which I am assigned."

His statement today that the primary votes so far "are forcing me to re-examine that decision" led to speculation that he may return shortly to the United States.

Talk About Delegates

Minneapolis, March 20 (AP) — Jubilant backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today talked plans for gaining Republican convention delegates with the surprising 106,788 write-ins the general got to challenge favorite son Harold E. Stassen in Minnesota's presidential primary.

With 3,550 of the state's 3,769 precincts reported, Eisenhower's total was 37.2 per cent of the GOP votes cast Tuesday. Stassen, with 128,134, had a 44.6 percentage and, under the law, a clean sweep of both the state's 25 Republican delegates and the popularity contest.

Returns from the small and scattered 219 voting districts remaining were not expected to change the standings materially.

Eisenhower supports said their drive for delegates would be centered in the third and fifth congressional districts, where the general bested the former Minnesota Governor in the vote totals. The fifth is entirely in Minneapolis. The third is made up of the remaining Minneapolis wards and four counties north and east of the state's biggest city.

Sees Taft Through

dation, which he heads, to devote full time to the Eisenhower campaign.

Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.), the Eisenhower campaign manager, called a news conference today (4 p. m.), reportedly to announce new plans designed to rally support for Eisenhower.

Mediation Board Only Group To Escape Appropriation Cut

Washington, March 20 (AP)—A $1,786,086,161 budget for the Labor Department, the Federal Security Agency and related boards was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

This is $197,324,700, or approximately 10 per cent, less than the $1,983,410,761 President Truman requested for the fiscal year starting July 1.

All but one of the four agencies financed by the bill were cut, the sole exception being the National Mediation Board which was allotted the full $1,130,000 requested.

The Labor Department's budget was trimmed from $228,096,100 to $211,664,400, a cut of $16,431,700.

The Federal Security Agency asked for $1,740,158,261 and was allotted $1,560,244,261, a cut of $180,514,000.

NLRB Is Sliced

The National Labor Relations Board's request for $9,600,000 was trimmed to $9,600,000, a reduction of $200,000.

The committee cut $179,000 from the $3,626,500 requested for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, leaving that agency $3,447,500.

The funds are in a bill sent to the House floor for debate next week.

A budget-cutting drive which already has shaved President Truman's own funds ran headlong today into demands for more money for veterans and public housing.

The VA now has 2,234 employes doing contact work, and says the cuts would reduce this figure to 305. Contact employes handle queries by veterans and others seeking information on veterans' laws.

The Appropriations Committee recommended $1,137,727,000 for the atomic energy program for the next fiscal year. This is a cut of $174,272,500 below the requested amount, and is $468,170,250 below the appropriation for the current year.

Protests Atomic Cut

The nine-member joint Atomic Energy Committee said a proposed cut of 46 million dollars in the 136 million requested for the atomic reactor program could well slow down to a walk the program to build atomic-powered aircraft and submarines. It also protested a proposed 15 million cut for physical research, and limitations on certain production.

In addition, nine House members of the joint committee on atomic energy said certain economies and limitations in the $6,271,138,348 appropriation bill may delay the nation's atomic and H-bomb programs and threaten "our atomic supremacy over Russia."

Driscoll Calls Taft Poor Loser

Newark, N. J., March 20 (AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said today withdrawal of Sen. Taft from New Jersey's preferential primary was the "result of successive setbacks in New Hampshire and Minnesota."

The Governor added that the Ohio senator's announcement in Washington was "obviously the words of poor losers."

Taft, in withdrawing from the April 15 election, said he was doing so because Driscoll had "broken his word" in endorsing Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination.

Driscoll added in a statement:

"The supporters of Sen. Taft, who include many of our fine citizens, must be sadly disillusioned by the senator's decision. It is hard for me to believe that what I have read are the words of Sen. Taft, for they are obviously the words of poor losers."

Driscoll announced on Monday that he will support Eisenhower in the popularity poll. The vote is not binding on the state's 38 delegates to the GOP national convention but Driscoll has said delegates will be "morally bound" to support the winner.

Prospective Jurors In Sutton Case See Star Witness

New York, March 20 (AP)—Following an unexpected defense request, the state's star witness against bank robber Willie Sutton was brought into the courtroom today and exhibited to prospective jurors to see if any knew him.

The prosecution has made numerous references to the witness during the three days of picking a jury to try Sutton and Thomas Kling for a $64,000 Queens bank robbery two years ago.

Assistant District Attorney James P. McGrattan was asking the 38th prospective juror if he would be prejudiced against testimony of John De Venuta, "an accomplice" in the holdup.

George Washington Herz, one of Sutton's lawyers, interrupted to demand that De Venuta be brought in to see if any of the prospective jurors, including 10 tentatively selected, knew De Venuta by sight.

"The name means nothing," he protested.

Queens County Judge Peter T. Farrell ordered De Venuta be brought into the courtroom and after a short pause he was escorted in by two attendants.

None of the prospective jurors said they knew him, and De Venuta was taken from the courtroom.

Counsel Ready

Counsel for Willie Sutton and Thomas Kling hint they will base their defense on a $64,000 question: Are they victims of mistaken identity in the Queens bank robbery of two years ago?

Examining prospective jurors yesterday, Defense Attorney George Washington Herz repeatedly asked:

"Will you take into consideration the nervous tension that existed in that situation?"—meaning the $64,000 holdup on March 9, 1950, of a Manufacturers Trust Company branch.

"Will you consider the haziness, the confusion, the lighting, the distance, the angles involved?"

Another defense lawyer, John F. X. Sheridan, added:

"Identification is going to be very material in this case."

When yesterday's session was adjourned, 10 jurors had been chosen out of a total of 33 questioned. But there was no assurance that the 10 men would remain in the box. Neither the state nor the defense has used the 20 challenges each is entitled to. These challenges may be made directly by the defendants.

To Regulate Billboards

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—The Senate today sent Governor Dewey his bill to regulate billboards and other advertising along the state Thruway. The vote was 33-20.

Okays Pay for Parking

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—A bill to allow municipalities, including New York city, to charge fees for overnight automobile parking on the street was approved today by the Legislature and sent to Governor Dewey. Final clearance came in the Assembly. The measure, introduced by Republican Senator Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, was designed to help ease the "serious shortage of off-street facilities" for parking.

Truman Leaves

could use his own judgment as to when to return.

When it is proper and safe for him to return he is at liberty to do so, the President said.

Some Republicans backing Eisenhower for their party's presidential nomination have been urging that he come home for speeches on issues of the day.

The latest expression from Eisenhower on this was in a letter he wrote March 10 to a group of 19 GOP House members who asked him to return.

Eisenhower told them that although he is "not indispensable" at European defense headquarters, he feels he cannot quit his post "during the next few months" to campaign for the presidency.

Eisenhower wrote that "in the absence of a compelling call or relief by higher authority I cannot see in any personal or political circumstances a sufficient warrant for me to leave this assignment during the immediate future." He promised, however, to "regularly re-examine my position."

Primaries in Picture Now

This letter was written before his sweep in the presidential preference primary in New Hampshire. Since then, the Eisenhower-for-President movement has had another filip from the big write-in vote for him in last Tuesday's Minnesota primary.

Reporters at Truman's news conference pressed him for comment on the reason for McKinney's optimism yesterday on prospects for an early settlement of the Korean situation.

The President replied, somewhat sharply, that he has never commented on Korean developments at a news conference.

Any comment from here might upset the apple cart, Truman added.

A reporter remarked that McKinney had said he expected a decision by May 15 on the President's political plans.

Truman said he will decide whether he will seek re-election and will pick his own time and place for his announcement.

Primaries Force

that I would not seek nomination to political office."

He also said in his January 7 statement that "in the absence of a clear-cut call to political duty, I shall continue to devote my full attention and energies to the performance of the vital task to which I am assigned."

His statement today that the primary votes so far "are forcing me to re-examine that decision" led to speculation that he may return shortly to the United States.

Talk About Delegates

Minneapolis, March 20 (AP) — Jubilant backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today talked plans for gaining Republican convention delegates with the surprising 106,788 write-ins the general got to challenge favorite son Harold E. Stassen in Minnesota's presidential primary.

With 3,550 of the state's 3,769 precincts reported, Eisenhower's total was 37.2 per cent of the GOP votes cast Tuesday. Stassen, with 128,134, had a 44.6 percentage and, under the law, a clean sweep of both the state's 25 Republican delegates and the popularity contest.

Returns from the small and scattered 219 voting districts remaining were not expected to change the standings materially.

Eisenhower supports said their drive for delegates would be centered in the third and fifth congressional districts, where the general bested the former Minnesota Governor in the vote totals. The fifth is entirely in Minneapolis. The third is made up of the remaining Minneapolis wards and four counties north and east of the state's biggest city.

Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.), the Eisenhower campaign manager, called a news conference today (4 p. m.), reportedly to announce new plans designed to rally support for Eisenhower.

Mediation Board Only Group To Escape Appropriation Cut

Washington, March 20 (AP)—A $1,786,086,161 budget for the Labor Department, the Federal Security Agency and related boards was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Hank—What for?
Joan—Oh, I just want to see what I look like when I'm asleep.

I view with scorn and deep disdain
The selfish guy on bus or train
Who has a paper when I need it
But holds it so I can not read it.

Irate Cop—Didn't you hear me cry at you to stop?
Motorist—Yes, I did hear somebody yelling.
Irate Cop—Why didn't you stop?
Motorist—I thought it was somebody I had run over.

Roberta—Why do they call them blind dates?
Ruthie—Because what you get convinces you that the fellow who fixed them up was blind.

It's not the start in an aeroplane that counts. It's whether you can keep it up or not.

Bobby—Daddy, you remember you promised me three dollars if I passed in school?
Father—Yes, so I did (very pleased with his son's efforts.)
Bobby—Well, you won't have to go to that extra expense.

She—That speaker last night sure made a hit.
Her—What did he talk about?
She—About five minutes!

Where there's a will, there's a relation.

Boss — Are you looking for work, my man?
Applicant — Not necessarily — but I'd like a job.

Madam—Have you any references?
Cook—Oh, yes, ma'am, many, but I don't carry them. They hardly do me justice.

Grace Felter Harder

Funeral services of Grace Felter Harder, 62, who died early Wednesday morning at the Kingston Hospital, will be held at the Mt. Marion Reformed Church Friday at 10:30 a. m. with the Rev. F. W. A. Sawitzky, pastor, and the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church of this city, officiating. Mrs. Harder was born at Lake Katrine, daughter of Willis and Sarah N. Felter, and attended Mt. Marion Church during her childhood. About 1920 Mrs. Harder became a resident of Kingston, her husband, Alfred L. Harder, being local manager of the New York Telephone Company. During her residence here at 80 Clifton avenue, she was an active member of the Reformed Church of the Comforter women's organizations. Two sons, A. James Harder of Rockville Center, and Dr. Alfred W. Harder of this city and a daughter, Louise, wife of the Rev. Oliver Carberry, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Albany, survive. Austin V. Carey of Our Lady of Victory Chapel. Tuesday at 8 p. m., members of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Santa Maria, No. 164, called and were led in the recitation of the Rosary by Father Carey, chaplain. While the body reposed in the chapel there was a continuous flow of her many friends and relatives and the many floral pieces and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards gave evidence to the high esteem in which she was held. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Kenny, assisted by Father Simmons, gave the final blessing. Bearers were Edward O'Connor, Harold O'Connor, Laurence A. Quilty, Ray Snyder, Patrick Stephano and Ernest A. Steuding.

C of C Offers $100 For Original Copy Of Ulster Gazette

A nation-wide appeal is being made for an original copy of a four-page newspaper published in Kingston, over 150 years ago. It is the January 4, 1800, issue of the Ulster County Gazette which contains items on the death and funeral of George Washington.

The newspaper sought is a rare collectors item and at present only two known original copies are in existence. Numerous reprints have been made over a period of 75 or more years and are quite often uncovered. One original copy is in the Library of Congress in Washington, and the other is owned by the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester, Mass.

Although published in Kingston, this city is without a known original copy. To correct this situation the Kingston Chamber of Commerce offers to pay $100 for the first authentic, original copy of the January 4, 1800, issue of the Ulster County Gazette delivered complete and in good condition.

The Chamber advises that copies can be authenticated in one of at least two ways. The Library of Congress has published a leaflet "The Ulster County Gazette of January 4, 1800," which is distributed free on request. It contains a brief description and 11 specific tests to be applied. The New York Public Library in New York has published a booklet entitled "The Ulster County Gazette and Its Illegitimate Offspring," which they offer for sale. It contains a detailed description as well as samples of many mastheads of reprints.

If the Chamber of Commerce is successful in locating a copy of this rare newspaper, President Lawrence J. MacAvery stated today, it will be presented to the Senate House Museum here, which houses many other historic items of unusual interest, including the largest collection of John Vanderlyn portraits and the governor's collection of the late Alton B. Parker. The special interest is due to the fact that Kingston is celebrating its 300th Anniversary this year and the presentation would be a part of the extended celebration. It also coincides with the 100th anniversary of the death of artist Vanderlyn, who painted "The Landing of Columbus" in the rotunda of the national capitol in Washington.

A warning was also issued by President MacAvery not to send all copies of the Ulster County Gazette which may be found. Authentication should be accomplished first. Reprints and other copies will not be returned unless postage is provided by the sender and only the first authentic copy received of the January 4, 1800, issue will be purchased at the price specified.

Gruenther will fly, with one or two staff officers, in one of the two four-engine planes assigned for the use of Gen. Eisenhower and his staff.

Wicks Track Bill

licenses held by track operators who have gambling or criminal backgrounds or consort or have consorted with such people. The main bill's provisions on this score applied only to drivers, trainers and horse owners.

This supplemental measure, however, was quietly killed Tuesday by the Senate Finance and Assembly Rules Commitees, it was reported.

Plead for Other Measure

Lawrence Sheppard, USTA president, and Elbridge T. Gerry, former chairman of the State Harness Racing Commission, reportedly visited Governor Dewey recently. They were said to have pleaded for enactment of the supplemental bill.

They said they would go along with both the main Wicks bill and the supplemental measure, but not the Wicks bill alone.

Dewey reportedly notified GOP legislative leaders to pass both bills or not to send him the Wicks proposal to give the Harness Racing Commission the powers now vested in the USTA.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 20 (AP)—Strength in rails and motors—with steels holding steady—sent the stock market ahead today, although trading was on the light side.

Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the best while losses were held down severely.

Gold mining shares were in demand, and the building material issues made and held fast to good gains.

Radio-television issues were out of favor again today, still apparently under the cloud of reported price cutting on television receiving sets to boost lagging sales.

Aircrafts and air lines were on the lower side, and non-ferrous metals were badly neglected by buyers.

Negotiations in the steel industry dispute dominated all market thinking.

Oils were irregular with profit-taking hitting the recent upside leaders. Cities Service was ahead.

Republic Aviation was active at a steady price after declaration of a 50-cent dividend as against 25 cents a year ago.

Hudson Motor was ahead fractionally after directors declared a dividend of 25 cents, the first since June of last year when a 25-cent dividend plus a 25-cent special was paid.

Ship Craps Game Holdup Unsolved

Golfe Juan, France, March 20 (AP)—The navy was all at sixes and sevens today over who faded away with all the payday money in the carrier Midway's mysterious midnight dice game.

The most generally credited of several stories was told by the U. S. consul at Nice, Quincy Roberts. He said three gobs, masked to the eyeballs, waded in among a group of astonished crapshooters at midnight on the carrier, waved guns, and picked up some $4,000 in ready betting money.

Roberts was first to tell the story, rechecked later, he commented, "I think it is about right."

Even his version wasn't sure when the pistol toters made their pass. Saturday was payday. It might have been that night, or even Sunday or Monday.

American diplomats suggested to naval officials they give out an official version of the incident. But up to noon, the navy was still saying "no dice" to all such ideas. The culprits were still at large.

Harder, being local manager of the New York Telephone Company. During her residence here at 80 Clifton avenue, she was an active member of the Reformed Church of the Comforter women's organizations. New York, March 20 (AP)—The New York Journal American said today that actress Barbara Payton swallowed sleeping pills after a quarrel with her husband, actor Franchot Tone, a few days ago and was saved by "quick action" of a physician. The story came to light almost simultaneously with a report from Los Angeles that Tone has revived his divorce suit against the actress.

C of C Offers $100 For Original Copy Of Ulster Gazette

A nation-wide appeal is being made for an original copy of a four-page newspaper published in Kingston, over 150 years ago. It is the January 4, 1800, issue of the Ulster County Gazette which contains items on the death and funeral of George Washington.

The newspaper sought is a rare collectors item and at present only two known original copies are in existence. Numerous reprints have been made over a period of 75 or more years and are quite often uncovered. One original copy is in the Library of Congress in Washington, and the other is owned by the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester, Mass.

Although published in Kingston, this city is without a known original copy. To correct this situation the Kingston Chamber of Commerce offers to pay $100 for the first authentic, original copy of the January 4, 1800, issue of the Ulster County Gazette delivered complete and in good condition.

The Chamber advises that copies can be authenticated in one of at least two ways. The Library of Congress has published a leaflet "The Ulster County Gazette of January 4, 1800," which is distributed free on request. It contains a brief description and 11 specific tests to be applied. The New York Public Library in New York has published a booklet entitled "The Ulster County Gazette and Its Illegitimate Offspring," which they offer for sale. It contains a detailed description as well as samples of many mastheads of reprints.

If the Chamber of Commerce is successful in locating a copy of this rare newspaper, President Lawrence J. MacAvery stated today, it will be presented to the Senate House Museum here, which houses many other historic items of unusual interest, including the largest collection of John Vanderlyn portraits and the governor's collection of the late Alton B. Parker. The special interest is due to the fact that Kingston is celebrating its 300th Anniversary this year and the presentation would be a part of the extended celebration. It also coincides with the 100th anniversary of the death of artist Vanderlyn, who painted "The Landing of Columbus" in the rotunda of the national capitol in Washington.

A warning was also issued by President MacAvery not to send all copies of the Ulster County Gazette which may be found. Authentication should be accomplished first. Reprints and other copies will not be returned unless postage is provided by the sender and only the first authentic copy received of the January 4, 1800, issue will be purchased at the price specified.

Wicks Track Bill

licenses held by track operators who have gambling or criminal backgrounds or consort or have consorted with such people. The main bill's provisions on this score applied only to drivers, trainers and horse owners.

This supplemental measure, however, was quietly killed Tuesday by the Senate Finance and Assembly Rules Commitees, it was reported.

Plead for Other Measure

Lawrence Sheppard, USTA president, and Elbridge T. Gerry, former chairman of the State Harness Racing Commission, reportedly visited Governor Dewey recently. They were said to have pleaded for enactment of the supplemental bill.

They said they would go along with both the main Wicks bill and the supplemental measure, but not the Wicks bill alone.

Dewey reportedly notified GOP legislative leaders to pass both bills or not to send him the Wicks proposal to give the Harness Racing Commission the powers now vested in the USTA.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 20 (AP)—Strength in rails and motors—with steels holding steady—sent the stock market ahead today, although trading was on the light side.

Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the best while losses were held down severely.

Gold mining shares were in demand, and the building material issues made and held fast to good gains.

Radio-television issues were out of favor again today, still apparently under the cloud of reported price cutting on television receiving sets to boost lagging sales.

Aircrafts and air lines were on the lower side, and non-ferrous metals were badly neglected by buyers.

Negotiations in the steel industry dispute dominated all market thinking.

Oils were irregular with profit-taking hitting the recent upside leaders. Cities Service was ahead.

Republic Aviation was active at a steady price after declaration of a 50-cent dividend as against 25 cents a year ago.

Hudson Motor was ahead fractionally after directors declared a dividend of 25 cents, the first since June of last year when a 25-cent dividend plus a 25-cent special was paid.

Board to Probe Death of Women

Jacksonville, Fla., March 20 (AP) — A special navy board was formed to start an investigation today of the forced landing of a fighter plane that killed two prominent Jacksonville women on Tinuquana Golf Course.

The pilot, Ens. C. L. Greenwood of Bloomfield, N. J., said "I never saw them." He was only slightly hurt when the single engine Corsair hit the turf, skittered several hundred feet, and crashed into a clump of trees on the edge of a fairway.

Killed were Mrs. Brady Johnston, 53, wife of the vice-president and general manager of Dinsmore Dairy Co., and city golf champion in 1938; and Mrs. William Dempsey, 38, wife of the vice-president of the Graze-Dempsey Construction Equipment firm.

The navy said Greenwood reported he had just gotten airborne "then lost power and was trying to get back to the runway or the river but was in a steep turn and just couldn't make it and couldn't land anywhere else."

Dummy Scares Motorists

Rockford, Ill., (AP)—Frightened motorists called police on a recent Saturday night to report seeing the body of a man hanging from a railroad viaduct. Police cut it down. It wore a mask and was fully dressed, including hat and shoes. It was a dummy.

$84,500 Jewish Welfare Goal for Kingston Area

The outcome of the 1952 United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign will help decide the issue of victory or defeat for Israel as it fights for economic independence in the face of food, housing, medical and other shortages that have seriously lowered the living standards of the state's 700,000 recent immigrants, Richard M. Kalish, chairman of the Kingston Campaign, declared today. It will also determine the future of the Kingston Jewish Community Center, he said.

The Jewish Community Council of Kingston announced that the 1952 goal has been set at $84,500 and that the United Jewish Appeal and the Kingston Jewish Community Center will be the major beneficiaries of the local campaign. It was emphasized, however, that these are by no means the only beneficiaries of the fund which also contributes materially to a large number of other Jewish agencies and organizations including the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, Histadrut, The Joint Defense Appeal, The American Committee for Hebrew University, Weissman Institute & Technion, B'nai Brith Youth Services, religious seminaries in the United States, and others too numerous to mention.

Kalish compared the 1952 goal with that of 1948 when, under his chairmanship, an equivalent amount had been raised. He stressed the importance of reaching this goal again as "crucial," declaring that it was the only way to salvage the time, energy, and funds that have been invested in both local and overseas projects, to date.

The campaign chairman stressed that the agencies financed by the United Jewish Appeal the largest single beneficiary —which includes the United Israel Appeal, Joint Distribution Committee and United Service for New Americans—must work at top speed to complete their programs of rehabilitation and reconstruction in the face of mounting unrest and tension in many areas of the world. He said that in 1952 "the United Jewish Appeal is carrying on its greatest campaign since it was established in 1939." "At this very moment," Mr. Kalish said, "more than 250,000 of the more than 700,000 men, women and children brought to Israel with United Jewish Appeal aid are still living in tents and huts in temporary immigrant centers. We must help these newcomers not only with food, shelter, clothing and medical care, but we must help turn their homecoming into a great home making and thereby help the people of Israel to win their crucial struggle for economic independence."

Programs supported by the U. J. A. for the development of Israel call for the construction of 100 new agricultural settlements, the expansion of 396 already established settlements, the creation and expansion of 22,000 anti-austerity farm units, the erection of 21,000 housing units and the extension of irrigation and water projects to expand Israel's total irrigated area to 120,000 acres and so increase Israel's agricultural output.

With funds made available through the nationwide United Jewish Appeal campaign, Kalish declared, "we can help Israel consolidate the achievements she has already recorded and help her to develop from a beachhead into a major bastion of democracy in the Middle East."

Other programs that must be supported by the 1952 United Jewish Appeal campaign, Kalish said, include the transfer of 120,000 men, women and children to Israel from European and Moslem countries before the end of the current year. In 1951, he reported, more than 175,000 homeless and distressed Jews were transported to Israel, with United Jewish Appeal funds.

Egg Combinations Fine Eating

FLUFFY SPRING EGGS combined with glazed luncheon meat present an ideal combination for lunch or supper.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Eggs are way down in price. So let's take advantage of this good eating at budget prices.

Fluffy Eggs

Separate eggs holding the yolk in half of the shell. (The shell may be supported in a cup). Add salt to whites, approximately a scant ⅛ teaspoon per egg white. Beat until stiff and glossy. Pile on rounds or squares of toast placed on baking sheet—make a hollow in each with back of spoon.

Drop egg yolk into hollow. Bake in a hot over (400 degrees F.) until whites are lightly browned, 8 to 10 minutes. Serve promptly on platter with slices of glazed luncheon meat.

Lenten Eggs With Rice

One-quarter cup butter, 1 tablespoon minced onion, ¼ cup flour, 1½ cups milk, 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, ½ cup finely diced American cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups cooked rice, 4 eggs, paprika.

Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and let cook 1 minute over moderate heat. Stir in flour. Add milk and contents of can of mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils. Add cheese, salt and pepper. Remove from heat and stil until cheese melts. Place rice in each of four greased shallow individual baking dishes.

Make a small depression in center of each and break an egg into each depression. Spoon cheese and mushroom sauce gently over the tops of the eggs and rice. Sprinkle liberally with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes until the egg is just set. Serve immediately for lunch, or for the main course at supper.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Mixed tomato and grapefruit juice, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, syrup or honey, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Fluffy eggs on toast with sardines and lemon slices, apple and cabbage slaw, molasses cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Frozen fish fillets baked in lemon butter, parsley new potatoes, canned peas with minced onion, enriched crusty bread, butter or fortified margarine, head lettuce and tomato salad, French dressing, Danish pudding, light cream, coffee, milk.

Auto Club Holds Motorists Do Not Get Road Value

New York, March 20 (AP)—New York state's taxpaying motorists are not getting their money's worth in highway work, says Leslie Williams, traffic engineer of the Automobile Club of New York.

Addressing the annual convention of the New York State Association of Highway Engineers, he said yesterday the state has diverted almost one billion dollars of highway funds to other purposes in the past 22 years.

He declared results of the diversion are: "More than one-third of the roads in our state highway system contain serious accident-producing hazards, one-third can no longer serve the needs of the traffic to which they are subjected, and almost one-half are structurally deficient."

Williams noted, however, that motorists pay the state more than 200 million dollars a year in license fees and gasoline taxes.

New York state, he said, "desperately" needs a master plan of highway development to keep roads from becoming outdated.

Ike Almost Sure Of 79 Delegates

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today appeared a good bet to corral at least 79 of New York's 96 delegate votes for the Republican presidential nomination.

This estimate was based on the list of candidates for election as delegates to the GOP national convention at Chicago July 7. Filing of the list was completed yesterday.

The list indicated only nine primary contests between candidates for Eisenhower and candidates either definitely for Senator Robert A. Taft or possibly favoring him.

The state's primary April 22 will see four clear-cut contests between Eisenhower and Taft slates. Two will be in the 16th Congressional District, which covers Staten Island and the lower part of Manhattan and two in the 29th District, comprising the upstate counties of Orange, Delaware, Rockland and Sullivan.

In western New York, pro-Eisenhower candidates will go after five seats against a slate that says it will go to Chicago uncommitted if elected. The slate, however, was entered by a declared Taft supporter, Harry J. Forhead of Buffalo, Erie county Republican chief.

There is no opposition to a slate of eight candidates put up in Queens county, part of New York city, by Frank J. Kenna, GOP county leader and a Taft supporter.

All the other candidates in the state were entered either at the request or with the approval of the GOP state organization, controlled by Governor Dewey. Dewey hopes to bag the entire New York delegation for Eisenhower.

Ike Almost Sure Of 79 Delegates

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today appeared a good bet to corral at least 79 of New York's 96 delegate votes for the Republican presidential nomination.

This estimate was based on the list of candidates for election as delegates to the GOP national convention at Chicago July 7. Filing of the list was completed yesterday.

The list indicated only nine primary contests between candidates for Eisenhower and candidates either definitely for Senator Robert A. Taft or possibly favoring him.

The state's primary April 22 will see four clear-cut contests between Eisenhower and Taft slates. Two will be in the 16th Congressional District, which covers Staten Island and the lower part of Manhattan and two in the 29th District, comprising the upstate counties of Orange, Delaware, Rockland and Sullivan.

In western New York, pro-Eisenhower candidates will go after five seats against a slate that says it will go to Chicago uncommitted if elected. The slate, however, was entered by a declared Taft supporter, Harry J. Forhead of Buffalo, Erie county Republican chief.

There is no opposition to a slate of eight candidates put up in Queens county, part of New York city, by Frank J. Kenna, GOP county leader and a Taft supporter.

All the other candidates in the state were entered either at the request or with the approval of the GOP state organization, controlled by Governor Dewey. Dewey hopes to bag the entire New York delegation for Eisenhower.

His Fill of Caves

With the U. S. 40th Infantry Division, Korea, March 20 (AP)—As a civilian, Cpl. Ronald Moorse's hobby was speleology—the study of caves. In Korea, his home was a cave-like structure of logs, mud, sandbags, and snow. The other day his home collapsed. It took more than two hours to dig him out. Moorse, of (183 Green street) Valley Stream, N. Y., lamented: "The same thing happened to me once when I was exploring in New York. But this time it's worse. Now I'm homeless."

Nearly 30 diseases are known to attack soybeans in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Christensen of New York spent the weekend with Mr. Christensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Christensen.

His Fill of Caves

With the U. S. 40th Infantry Division, Korea, March 20 (AP)—As a civilian, Cpl. Ronald Moorse's hobby was speleology—the study of caves. In Korea, his home was a cave-like structure of logs, mud, sandbags, and snow. The other day his home collapsed. It took more than two hours to dig him out. Moorse, of (183 Green street) Valley Stream, N. Y., lamented: "The same thing happened to me once when I was exploring in New York. But this time it's worse. Now I'm homeless."

Girl Scouts Plan Awards Program

New Paltz, March 20—March 23 is a big day for New Paltz Girl Scouts. They, their families and their friends will attend the annual Court of Awards at New Paltz High School at 3 p. m. Mrs. Edward Coty, county commissioner from Napanoch, is expected to be present to award badges.

Four Brownies will fly up to intermediate scouting ranks, Sunday, They are Linda Pope, Jeannette Hogan, Sally Lane and Karen Simmons. Fifteen scouts will be awarded their second class badges, which are earned by the completion of requirements in 11 program fields.

Proficiency badges also will be awarded to girls who have earned them. Mrs. William Heidgerd, volunteer trainer, explained that the Girl Scout proficiency badge differs from the Boy Scout merit badge in that it is an award for preparation to a stage where the Girl Scout may be of service to the community and is often a troop project, stressing co-operation. The Boy Scout merit badge is an award for definite accomplishment and often involves competition.

Theatre Exhibition Opens at College

New Paltz, March 19—Theatre —From Ritual to Broadway, an exhibition prepared by the editors of Lite, is on view at the local college, beginning March 18 and continuing through April 5.

Over the past decade Life's journalist-photographers have produced an unsurpassed record of the American stage. This rich source of dramatic material forms the nucleus of theatre which traces the history of theatre from its beginning in ancient ritual to its present familiar shape in the Western World. The exhibition also undertakes to suggest some of the reasons—religious and social—for the theatre's perennial and universal appeal.

Twenty-five panels which make up the lively display are divided into four sections: the Beginnings of Theatre, Tragic Theatres, the Perennial Life of the Comedy, and Theatre in the Modern World.

The text for the exhibition was written by Francis Fergusson whose distinguished critical study, the Idea of a Theatre, (Princeton University Press, 1950), has been widely acclaimed.

'Paltz College Senior to Spend 12 Weeks Abroad

New Paltz, March 20 — Joan Cahraman, graduating senior at the local college, has been chosen to spend 12 weeks in Scotland this summer as an ambassador from Yonkers. Living as part of a family unit in Scotland, she will study the culture of the people and return with her own photographs, sketchs, and varied experiences, prepared to lecture before civic groups and churches in Yonkers.

Miss Cahraman's active participation in college organizations played a large part in her selection for this honor. As president of the Zeta Zeta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary teaching fraternity, she was a delegate to the national convention of the organization in Lansing, Mich., this month. Among the many offices which she has held at the college are the office of class secretary during her sophomore and junior years, senior representative to Student Council, vice-president of Arts and Crafts, co-chairman of Student Counselors, co-editor of the 1952 yearbook, student proctor in the new dormitory, and active membership in Theta Phi, a social sorority on campus. In addition to her college activities, she also has been active in the Dutch Reformed Church in the village of New Paltz.

Asked why she submitted an application for the opportunity to travel and learn more about life in other nations, Miss Cahraman told the members of the interviewing board that she had lived in Yonkers for 22 years, had attended public schools there and felt that she wanted to repay the city in some way for the numerous benefits she had reaped from her experiences there. The chance to bring two nations closer by the sharing and understanding of their separate cultures seems vastly important to Joan in the face of world conditions today. Important also is the fact that a background of varied experiences such as this ambassadorship will offer will be invaluable to her upon her return to Yonkers and the teaching job which will await her.

The program of which Miss Cahraman's ambassadorship is a part is sponsored by the adult education division of the State Education Department in cooperation with the American Experiment in International Living, a non-profit agency with headquarters located in Putney, Vt.

Village Briefs

New Paltz, March 20—Mrs. Andrew Deyo returned from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Sunday after a visit of several weeks.

Thirty-two members of the New Paltz Volunteer Fire Department attended services at the Methodist Church Sunday. Organist emeritus, Miss Margaret Newton, played for the services that day.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Miss Helena Olds, Mrs. Alvin Beatty, and Mrs. O. L. Harding went to New York Sunday to attend the opening of the International Flower Show. Many others from New Paltz plan to attend during the week.

Edgar V. Beebe, local life insurance representative, held first place in number of paid applications for the month of February, according to the current issue of the Capitalizer, newsletter of the Albany office of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. Mr. Beebe's name also appears in the Fifty National Leaders list for the same month.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bosler and Miss Minnie Bosler of Sussex, N. J., visited the Walter Dyers Sunday.

The fire department was called Saturday to the residence of Ralph Andradez where a flooded oil burner was sending smoke and flame through the chimney. Fire Chief Isaac Pole reported no damage.

The Eugene Links and their three children of Mulberry street, whose huge Angora cat was recently killed by a car, have a new pet. A six-week old toy Collie puppy was given to them the other day by some of Dr. Link's students from Long Island.

The New Paltz Village Board will not meet at its regular monthly date, March 24, but will hold its annual meeting Monday, April 7, in the trustees' room of the municipal building. The annual meeting is traditionally a time for the new trustees to take their positions, forming a budget estimate for the coming year, and making new appointments. Re-elected Trustees George Ackert and Henry DuBois will resume their seats on the board.

Civil Service Meeting

The regular meeting of the Civil Service Employes Association will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the city court rooms. All members are requested to attend.

Ex-Parkway Cop Shoots 2 Negroes

Yonkers, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—A retired Parkway policeman shot and killed two Negro brothers outside a tavern last night.

The former Westchester county Parkway officer, Stanley Labensky, 49, of Yonkers, was charged with escond degree murder.

The victims were Wyatt Blacknall, 36, and his brother, James, 22.

Chief Assistant District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks told this story:

Wyatt and James were at the bar with another brother, William, 26, when Labensky entered. The latter asked if the tavern served Negroes and if the bartender "washed the glasses."

The three Negroes left the place and Labensky went after them.

He shoved a gun in Wyatt's stomach and said, "I suppose you don't think I'd shoot."

As Wyatt backed away, he was shot dead. William ran for help. When aid arrived, James was dying of two bullet wounds in the stomach.

Weeks said Labensky claimed Wyatt had pulled a knife but the only knife found was a small, unopened penknife.

Lebensky retired from the Parkway force in February.

In 1919 it took a British dirigible 108 hours to fly across the Atlantic.

Air Cadet Field Is Open to Grads Of High Schools

The United States Air Force has announced important changes in the educational and age requirements for young men for pilot and navigator training. High school graduates may now apply for Air Cadet training and the minimum age has been lowered to 19 years. Previously an applicant for Air Cadet training was required to have at least two years of college schooling and could not be less than 20 years of age.

These important changes in educational and age requirements, said M/Sgt. Barton of the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Rrecuriting Station, were included in the establishment of a new Air Cadet program designed to insure a continued flow of qualified young men to Air Cadet training centers to support a rapidly expanding and modern air force.

However, continued Sgt. Barton, a high school graduate desiring to apply for Air Cadet trainin must enlist in the air force for a period of four years and apply after enlistment. Those with two years of college may still apply from civilian life and if accepted enlist as an Air Cadet for a period of two years.

Area Council Gets Praise for Jump In '51 Membership

At the monthly meeting of the executive board of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Tuesday night, Eagle Scout Carl Constant of Troop 11, sponsored by St. James Methodist Church, was presented with his eagle certificate by Keith Peaslee of the Regional Boy Scout office and with an American Legion citizenship citation by Edward West of Allaben, a member of the American Legion and of the Executive Board.

Peaslee was present at the meeting to conduct the annual charter review of the Council and to assist with the plans for the current year. Peaslee pointed out that the Rip Van Winkle Council showed an 18.6 per cent increase in membership at the end of 1951, ranking 10th in 72 Councils of the region—an enviable record, he said. It also was pointed out that the Council is only reaching 18 per cent of the available boys of Cub Scout age (8, 9 and 10); 30 per cent of the available boys of Boy Scout age, (11, 12 and 13), and 11 per cent of the available boys of Explorer age (14 and up). With the ambitious organization program which has been set up and approved this Council should lead the region in 1952.

More Leaders Now

Through the leadership training courses conducted last fall the percentage of trained leaders rose from 18 per cent to 45 per cent. With the training courses now in session and those planned for next fall this percentage should reach 75 per cent of all leaders with basic training by the end of 1952.

The long-term camping record is on the unswing; having 304 boy-weeks at Camp Tri-Mount in 1951 as compared with 198 in 1950. Anticipated attendance in 1952 is over 400 boy weeks. Scout and Cub advancement in 1951 were slow but with a recently reorganized and activated Advancement Committee, the 1952 record is already ahead of 1951.

Activities throughout the council and in all seven districts — rallies, camporees, store window displays, inter-unit competitions, etc., have gained in numbers and organization. An outstandingly good program of activities is planned and in operation during the current year and includes a spring rally in each district; a Council Camporee at the Council Camp June 13-14-15, annual district meetings during May, culminating in the Council annual meeting to be held Tuesday, May 27.

Board Approves Budget and Goal

Maynard Mizel of Kingston was introduced to the executive board of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, last night at its regular monthly meeting as the 1952-53 finance campaign chairman. Mizel has been active in civil affairs in Kingston for many years and is the father of a former Boy Scout.

The executive board approved a 1952-53 budget and campaign goal of $23,000 which will provide for additional services to the institutions and communities in Ulster and Greene counties; the Council area, using the scouting program. It will further provide more activities, more training opportunities, for more institutions to use the Scouting Program.

The campaign will be conducted the first two weeks in August, Mizel announced, and will cover every community in the Council area. All Districts were urged by Mizel to start immediately to recruit the necessary District and Community captains so full coverage will be possible.

Girl Scout News

(Official Report)

Mrs. Kenneth Martin, director of Camp Wendy, Girl Scout Camp, addressed Girl Scout leaders at a meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Monday March 10, giving a broad and colorful view of the activities of Camp Wendy for past seasons, and especially the 1951 camping season.

Camp Wendy was established 29 years ago at Wallkill and has been the scene of happily-spent summers for young girls, resounding with laughter and many activities for both Ulster county and out-of-county Scouts.

Last summer, Camp Wendy housed 277 campers, of which 179 were Ulster county Scouts.

The camp also had the largest number of volunteer workers in the history of the camp, who were ready to help at all times, whatever the problem might be.

Especially successful and popular was the swimming program, the Scouts swimming every day of the camping season, except one cold rainy day. The Scouts, under the guidance of the waterfront director, staged colorful water pageants, which were a source of fun and entertainment. Camp Wendy is rated as having one of the best waterfront staffs in camping activities. Last season four certified New York state people served on the waterfront staff. This capable waterfront staff gave many promotions, adhered strictly to the Red Cross regulations, and observed all the rules of safety wise at all times.

In May and June, two open weekends were held when workers were welcome, and interested parents were given a conducted tour of the camp. On change Sundays, a member of the camp committee served as hostess, greeting parents and new campers, and serving them light refreshments.

During the camp season, committee members and interested parents were always willing to lend a helping hand to make necessary repairs around camp.

Of the entire 32 members of the camp staff, 15 members were Ulster county residents. Their enthusiasm and knowledge of camping greatly aided the camping program.

Miss Betty Leehive, experineced cook, who has spent five years at Camp Wendy, and is again returning this year together with four kitchen aides, all Ulster county residents, and former Scouts, helped to keep the campers healthy and happy, and a feeling of good fellowship and cooperation prevailed in the dining units at all times.

Mrs. Genevieve Tinnie, camp nurse, very capably handled whatever minor scratches and bruises might have occurred.

Camp Wendy will open this season on July 6, and will run for three periods of two weeks each, through August 16. The camping rate, per scout, is $18. for Ulster county residents, and $20. per scout for out-of-county residents, per week.

Mrs. Martin remarked that the most popular food request at the camp by scouts, as is generally the custom with youngsters, was for the ever-popular hot dog and hamburger.

Older units went out on three-day camping and hiking trips, last season making a most enjoyable trip to Lake Minnewaska.

International Day at Camp was greatly enjoyed, with Scouts participating in and learning new songs and dances of various peoples.

Mrs. Lincoln Stulik, executive director of the Tuckahoe Eastchester Council, and Mrs. Herbert Fister of Kingston, assisted with various programs voluntarily, and Mrs. John Siglinger, former office secretary, donated her services weekends when they had been especially needed and were most appreciated.

When it was found necessary to purchase a new motor for the pump, Harold Eckler, plumber of Walden, donated his services for the installation of same.

Warren Bellis, a parent of two campers, found that the camp had long needed a sink outside of the arts and crafts building. He donated the sink and fittings, and the installation of same was accomplished by him with the help of the Greenwood unit, the older scouts helping with the digging and loving it!

The various housing units at Camp Wendy are named on the Peter Pan theme, thus creating a most imaginative and colorful atmosphere. Some of these colorful names are the Peter Pan Dining Hall, Tinker Bell Wash House, etc. Other fanciful names are the Pioneer unit, the Indian unit, Adirondack unit and the Jungle unit.

Colorful titles for small task doers are Pearl Diver, Jumping Jack, Indian Picker, Sunny Bunny, etc., thus inspiring the scouts to do small tasks cheerfully and willingly. For instance, it would take the girls just 17 minutes to wash the dishes of 127 campers, the Scouts being taught at all times to be self-reliant, and it was a rare exception for a Scout to return home after her camping trip, and not offer to help at home with the washing of the dishes.

The ultimate aim of Girl Scouting, said Mrs. Martin, is to have the youngster live in the out-doors and to adjust herself to group-living.

Unit leaders meetings were held weekly and individual conferences with unit staff were held to aid in the planning of programs, and on-the-spot-training was given. A well-rounded program showing the progression of Girl Scout standards was carried out under the supervision of Miss Ethel Halsey, program director. The majority of the programs were girl-planned, with staff supervision and suggestions.

"No one individual," said Mrs. Martin, "was responsible for the record made at Camp Wendy and for the contented campers for past seasons, but is due to the interest in Scouting and the willingness of campers, staff and committee to all work together."

The following leaders were present at the meeting: the Mmes. Theodore R. Lee, Richard Jones, J. Dean Dykstra, Howard A. DeWitt, Paul E. Jones, Otto Havlin, Richard Holbrook, Edmund Lamb, Reynolds Van Keuren, Jeremy D. Bouchard, John A. Henry, Robert B. Fisk, Lester Lange, Michael A. Martin, Harry Berchin, Robert T. Shellenberger, also the Misses Ella Jones, Leah C. Schultz and Mrs. Van Dyck Basten, treasurer, Kingston district.

Gives to Charities

New York, March 20 (AP)—Mrs. Sylvia Wilks, the wealthy eccentric who inherited nearly 100 million dollars from her mother, the fabulous Hetty Green, kept the tidy sum of 31 millions in just one checking account. Like her mother, Mrs. Wilks left an estate of nearly 100 millions. Most of her wealth will go to 63 charitable institutions. Mrs. Wilks, 80, died a year ago last month. Her mother, who died in 1916, amassed her fortune in New York realty investments and in Wall Street securities.

Public Welfare... Questions, Answers

In view of increasing public interest in public welfare matters, the Ulster County Children's Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, an independent citizens group, presents the following questions and answer as part of its program of providing information on tax-supported welfare activities.

Is it true that some people get relief money and unemployment insurance too?

Yes, because unemployment insurance benefits sometimes are insufficient for the family to maintain itself. If the family's total income is lower than the standard family budget established by the welfare department, the family may receive public assistance, with the amount of unemployment insurance taken into account.

Additional questions about public welfare activities may be sent to the committee through Mrs. Albert E. Milliken, R.R. 3, Kingston. Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz is chairman of the committee.

Illinois covers an area of 35,806-080 acres, 31,032,572 acres of which are classified as farm lands.

No Protest on Fares

New York, March 20 (AP)—A Public Service Commission hearing concluded yesterday on proposed passenger fare increases on the Long Island Rail Road that would boost unrestricted monthly commutation tickets 32 cents and restricted monthly tickets 29 cents. No commuters showed up at the final session to protest the proposed fare increases. Joseph J. Doran, assistant PSC counsel, said the road's proof of its need for higher fares was carefully checked and found "without serious errors."

(Official Report)

Mrs. Kenneth Martin, director of Camp Wendy, Girl Scout Camp, addressed Girl Scout leaders at a meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Monday March 10, giving a broad and colorful view of the activities of Camp Wendy for past seasons, and especially the 1951 camping season.

Camp Wendy was established 29 years ago at Wallkill and has been the scene of happily-spent summers for young girls, resounding with laughter and many activities for both Ulster county and out-of-county Scouts.

Last summer, Camp Wendy housed 277 campers, of which 179 were Ulster county Scouts.

The camp also had the largest number of volunteer workers in the history of the camp, who were ready to help at all times, whatever the problem might be.

Especially successful and popular was the swimming program, the Scouts swimming every day of the camping season, except one cold rainy day. The Scouts, under the guidance of the waterfront director, staged colorful water pageants, which were a source of fun and entertainment. Camp Wendy is rated as having one of the best waterfront staffs in camping activities. Last season four certified New York state people served on the waterfront staff. This capable waterfront staff gave many promotions, adhered strictly to the Red Cross regulations, and observed all the rules of safety wise at all times.

In May and June, two open weekends were held when workers were welcome, and interested parents were given a conducted tour of the camp. On change Sundays, a member of the camp committee served as hostess, greeting parents and new campers, and serving them light refreshments.

During the camp season, committee members and interested parents were always willing to lend a helping hand to make necessary repairs around camp.

Of the entire 32 members of the camp staff, 15 members were Ulster county residents. Their enthusiasm and knowledge of camping greatly aided the camping program.

Miss Betty Leehive, experienced cook, who has spent five years at Camp Wendy, and is again returning this year together with four kitchen aides, all Ulster county residents, and former Scouts, helped to keep the campers healthy and happy, and a feeling of good fellowship and cooperation prevailed in the dining units at all times.

Mrs. Genevieve Tinnie, camp nurse, very capably handled whatever minor scratches and bruises might have occurred.

Camp Wendy will open this season on July 6, and will run for three periods of two weeks each, through August 16. The camping rate, per scout, is $18. for Ulster county residents, and $20. per scout for out-of-county-residents, per week.

Mrs. Martin remarked that the most popular food request at the camp by scouts, as is generally the custom with youngsters, was for the ever-popular hot dog and hamburger.

Older units went out on three-day camping and hiking trips, last season making a most enjoyable trip to Lake Minnewaska.

International Day at Camp was greatly enjoyed, with Scouts participating in and learning new songs and dances of various peoples.

Mrs. Lincoln Stulik, executive director of the Tuckahoe Eastchester Council, and Mrs. Herbert Fister of Kingston, assisted with various programs voluntarily, and Mrs. John Siglinger, former office secretary, donated her services weekends when they had been especially needed and were most appreciated.

When it was found necessary to purchase a new motor for the pump, Harold Eckler, plumber of Walden, donated his services for the installation of same.

Warren Bellis, a parent of two campers, found that the camp had long needed a sink outside of the arts and crafts building. He donated the sink and fittings, and the installation of same was accomplished by him with the help of the Greenwood unit, the older scouts helping with the digging and loving it!

The various housing units at Camp Wendy are named on the Peter Pan theme, thus creating a most imaginative and colorful atmosphere. Some of these colorful names are the Peter Pan Dining Hall, Tinker Bell Wash House, etc. Other fanciful names are the Pioneer unit, the Indian unit, Adirondack unit and the Jungle unit.

Colorful titles for small task doers are Pearl Diver, Jumping Jack, Indian Picker, Sunny Bunny, etc., thus inspiring the scouts to do small tasks cheerfully and willingly. For instance, it would take the girls just 17 minutes to wash the dishes of 127 campers, the Scouts being taught at all times to be self-reliant, and it was a rare exception for a Scout to return home after her camping trip, and not offer to help at home with the washing of the dishes.

The ultimate aim of Girl Scouting, said Mrs. Martin, is to have the youngster live in the out-doors and to adjust herself to group-living.

Unit leaders meetings were held weekly and individual conferences with unit staff were held to aid in the planning of programs, and on-the-spot-training was given. A well-rounded program showing the progression of Girl Scout standards was carried out under the supervision of Miss Ethel Halsey, program director. The majority of the programs were girl-planned, with staff supervision and suggestions.

"No one individual," said Mrs. Martin, "was responsible for the record made at Camp Wendy and for the contented campers for past seasons, but is due to the interest in Scouting and the willingness of campers, staff and committee to all work together."

The following leaders were present at the meeting: the Mmes. Theodore R. Lee, Richard Jones, J. Dean Dykstra, Howard A. DeWitt, Paul E. Jones, Otto Havlin, Richard Holbrook, Edmund Lamb, Reynolds Van Keuren, Jeremy D. Bouchard, John A. Henry, Robert B. Fisk, Lester Lange, Michael A. Martin, Harry Berchin, Robert T. Shellenberger, also the Misses Ella Jones, Leah C. Schultz and Mrs. Van Dyck Basten, treasurer, Kingston district.

Gives to Charities

New York, March 20 (AP)—Mrs. Sylvia Wilks, the wealthy eccentric who inherited nearly 100 million dollars from her mother, the fabulous Hetty Green, kept the tidy sum of 31 millions in just one checking account. Like her mother, Mrs. Wilks left an estate of nearly 100 millions. Most of her wealth will go to 63 charitable institutions. Mrs. Wilks, 80, died a year ago last month. Her mother, who died in 1916, amassed her fortune in New York realty investments and in Wall Street securities.

Public Welfare... Questions, Answers

In view of increasing public interest in public welfare matters, the Ulster County Children's Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, an independent citizens group, presents the following questions and answer as part of its program of providing information on tax-supported welfare activities.

Is it true that some people get relief money and unemployment insurance too?

Yes, because unemployment insurance benefits sometimes are insufficient for the family to maintain itself. If the family's total income is lower than the standard family budget established by the welfare department, the family may receive public assistance, with the amount of unemployment insurance taken into account.

Additional questions about public welfare activities may be sent to the committee through Mrs. Albert E. Milliken, R.R. 3, Kingston. Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz is chairman of the committee.

No Protest on Fares

New York, March 20 (AP)—A Public Service Commission hearing concluded yesterday on proposed passenger fare increases on the Long Island Rail Road that would boost unrestricted monthly commutation tickets 32 cents and restricted monthly tickets 29 cents. No commuters showed up at the final session to protest the proposed fare increases. Joseph J. Doran, assistant PSC counsel, said the road's proof of its need for higher fares was carefully checked and found "without serious errors."

Malik Condems US For Germs, Ignores Chance for Proof

United Nations, N. W., March 20 (AP)—Russia has rejected an American plan for a world-wide arms census and further dimmed the faint hope the Soviets will cooperate with the UN disarmament commission.

In a bitter 45-minute speech yesterday, Soviet Delegate Jacob A Malik also called on the commission to take action against germ warfare and punish those using it.

He said he referred to the United States. But he ignored an earlier challenge yesterday by U. S. Delegate Benjamin V. Cohen to support a proposed Red Cross inquiry into Red charges that U. S. planes are spreading germs over North Korea.

Cohen last week vigorously denied the Soviet charges and said his government would cooperate in the inquiry.

Six Red Jets Are Blasted in 2 Days

Seoul, Korea, March 20 (AP)—American Sabres shot down five Communist MIG-15s and damaged five others today, bringing their two-day score to six Red Jets downed and 12 damaged.

The jets damaged yesterday included a new "type 15' Communist plane, "a funny looking bird" rarely seen over Korea.

It was a high wing version of the familiar Russian-type MIG-15.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman said the high-wing jets rarely have been seen. This was the first reported hit.

The spokesman said it appeared to be more efficient at lower altitudes than the low, swept-wing MIG-15. But it seemed to be about 50 miles an hour slower. It is about two feet longer and had a two-foot wider wing span than the MIG-15.

Lt. James Carey of Las Vegas, Nev., said he hit the "type 15" jet in the wing and fuselage after "I found myself on the tail of this funny looking bird."

The two-day toll of 18 Red jets destroyed or damaged was taken in five air battles, the Fifth Air Force reported.

400 Braved Storm for Preview of Spring Fashions

The heavy snow storm which pervaded the area last night was no deterrent to the more than 400 eager spectators present for the 16th annual fashion show sponsored by the YWCA Women's Club in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. The presentation included a variety of enchanting round-the-clock ensembles with navy blue as the predominant spring color. A group of models are shown and include left to right, Mrs. Abram F. Molyneaux, Jr., Mrs. Vincent Connelly, Miss Arlene Craw, Mrs. John Gilligan, Gail Boyce, David Godbey and Mrs. Joan Hansen. (Freeman photo)

Fabulous Furs, Jewels and Gowns Modeled In YW Women's Club Annual Fashion Show

Fabulous furs, jewels and gowns interspersed with enchanting practical models fashioned in the new and fascinating fabrics creating so much interest this spring were presented Wednesday evening in the crystal room of the Governor Clinton Hotel by the YWCA Women's Club during its 16th annual fashion show.

More than 400 persons in attendance expressed their enthusiastic approval of the fashions presented with audible "oh's and ah's." Navy blue alone and combined with contrasting colors of unusual combinations led the parade. The perennial favorite of navy and white still holds great appeal.

Trim, tailored jacket dresses vied with the popular dressmaker type suits. A wide choice was shown in the skirts which are fashionable this year in slim, full or plaited types. Important, too, were the silk coats to be worn separately or over accompanying dresses. Full length coats of feather light, non-crushable pastel wools are very much in the limelight this season.

Satin finished cottons as well as those of a brocade pattern and finish were at home in daytime ensembles as well as in the more formal fashions. A cocktail dress featured was made of a deep aquamarine satin finished cotton. Miss Arlene Craw modeled this creation and for accessories, chose a platinum diamond-studded wrist watch valued at $2,500, and an aquamarine ring having a value of $1,500. The jewelry was shown through the courtesy of. Schneider's.

Mink Leads

Fur cape stoles and cape type jackets fashioned with rounded lines and loose backs were the most outstandingly popular ones, with natural or dyed mink leading. Sharing honors were a cape type stole of natural breath of spring mink worn by Mrs. Lillian Leventhal and a natural silver blue mink coat worn by Mrs. Albert Rose. The luxuriously beautiful furs were presented through the courtesy of Leventhal Furriers.

Trends in costuming prevalent this year include the new lifted waistline. To be most effective the "cincher" is worn with this model to whittle the waist to sleek flattery. For the average figure, skirts will be worn 12 inches from the floor.

For milady's chapeaux, flowers and veils with velvet trim took precedence. The small white hat was shown as an excellent pick-up for the dark suit.

One of the hits of the show was a black and white striped coat that could also be worn as a dress. It was lined with red and accented the back belt line. With it was worn a bleeding heart piece of costume jewelry.

Children's Fashions

In the children's fashions, navy blue was again the favorite with lighter blue, blue gray and checked blues as runner-ups. Frequently, the navy costumes were accented with white, gold or a chartreuse verging on the gold.

A portion of the show was a tribute to the city's tercentennial celebration and took the form of a parade of brides. The bridal gowns dating from 1840 were brought up through the years to the present beautiful ensemble presented by the Bride's Shoppe. These gowns were modeled by Mrs. Charles Brandt, Mrs. Joan Hanson, Miss Audrey Shultis, and the modern version by Miss Lillian Larsen. Miss Mary Thurin was the latter's attendant.

The Crystal Room was artistically and colorfully decorated with forsythia, yellow tulips and palms. Miss Helena Clearwater and Mrs. Arthur Quimby were assisted by Mrs. Charles Brandt in the decorating.

Miss Helen Davenport was the commentator. Roger Baer furnished background music throughout the show.

Seen during the evening were original coiffures by J. Martin modeled by Mrs. Albert Rose, Sally Basch and Sylvia Kenik.

Proceeds from the event will assist the organization in sending two underprivileged children to camp in the Summer as well as finance social service programs at Christmas time and aid in the support of the YWCA by annual pledge and other services.

Saturday Dance

The weekly square and round dance for high school students will take place at the YMCA Saturday from 8 to 11:45 p. m. Music will be furnished by Harold Pratt and his Blue Ridge Rangers.

Soloist for Youth Aliyah Reception

The Youth Aliyah campaign sponsored annually by Hadassah, which is now in progress, will culminate in a reception Wednesday, March 26 at 8 p. m. in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. All campaign donors are invited to attend.

Youth Aliyah is the child immigration movement which Hadassah officially represents in the United States. Through this movement, Hadassah has helped resettle more than 50,000 orphaned children in Israel, providing them with maintenance and education until they are able to earn their own livelihood.

Appearing on the reception's musical program will be Mrs. Harold Shorr of this city who has delighted Kingston audiences on many occasions. Mrs. Shorr sang with Nick Kenny's orchestra and his New York Daily Mirror Radio Gang for many years. She has also sung with the Robert Shaw Collegiate Choral and with Fred Waring's Orchestra as well as the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mrs. Shorr who studied with Everett Engstrom was awarded scholarships to the Academy of Allied Arts and the David Mannes School of Music. Mrs. Schorr will be accompanied by Marguerite Zucker who studied at the Eastman School of Music.

400 Braved Storm for Preview of Spring Fashions

The heavy snow storm which pervaded the area last night was no deterrent to the more than 400 eager spectators present for the 16th annual fashion show sponsored by the YWCA Women's Club in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. The presentation included a variety of enchanting round-the-clock ensembles with navy blue as the predominant spring color. A group of models are shown and include left to right, Mrs. Abram F. Molyneaux, Jr., Mrs. Vincent Connelly, Miss Arlene Craw, Mrs. John Gilligan, Gail Boyce, David Godbey and Mrs. Joan Hansen. (Freeman photo)

Fabulous Furs, Jewels and Gowns Modeled In YW Women's Club Annual Fashion Show

Fabulous furs, jewels and gowns interspersed with enchanting practical models fashioned in the new and fascinating fabrics creating so much interest this spring were presented Wednesday evening in the crystal room of the Governor Clinton Hotel by the YWCA Women's Club during its 16th annual fashion show.

More than 400 persons in attendance expressed their enthusiastic approval of the fashions presented with audible "oh's and ah's." Navy blue alone and combined with contrasting colors of unusual combinations led the parade. The perennial favorite of navy and white still holds great appeal.

Trim, tailored jacket dresses vied with the popular dressmaker type suits. A wide choice was shown in the skirts which are fashionable this year in slim, full or plaited types. Important, too, were the silk coats to be worn separately or over accompanying dresses. Full length coats of feather light, non-crushable pastel wools are very much in the limelight this season.

Satin finished cottons as well as those of a brocade pattern and finish were at home in daytime ensembles as well as in the more formal fashions. A cocktail dress featured was made of a deep aquamarine satin finished cotton. Miss Arlene Craw modeled this creation and for accessories, chose a platinum diamond-studded wrist watch valued at $2,500, and an aquamarine ring having a value of $1,500. The jewelry was shown through the courtesy of. Schneider's.

Mink Leads

Fur cape stoles and cape type jackets fashioned with rounded lines and loose backs were the most outstandingly popular ones, with natural or dyed mink leading. Sharing honors were a cape type stole of natural breath of spring mink worn by Mrs. Lillian Leventhal and a natural silver blue mink coat worn by Mrs. Albert Rose. The luxuriously beautiful furs were presented through the courtesy of Leventhal Furriers.

Trends in costuming prevalent this year include the new lifted waistline. To be most effective the "cincher" is worn with this model to whittle the waist to sleek flattery. For the average figure, skirts will be worn 12 inches from the floor.

For milady's chapeaux, flowers and veils with velvet trim took precedence. The small white hat was shown as an excellent pick-up for the dark suit.

One of the hits of the show was a black and white striped coat that could also be worn as a dress. It was lined with red and accented the back belt line. With it was worn a bleeding heart piece of costume jewelry.

Children's Fashions

In the children's fashions, navy blue was again the favorite with lighter blue, blue gray and checked blues as runner-ups. Frequently, the navy costumes were accented with white, gold or a chartreuse verging on the gold.

A portion of the show was a tribute to the city's tercentennial celebration and took the form of a parade of brides. The bridal gowns dating from 1840 were brought up through the years to the present beautiful ensemble presented by the Bride's Shoppe. These gowns were modeled by Mrs. Charles Brandt, Mrs. Joan Hanson, Miss Audrey Shultis, and the modern version by Miss Lillian Larsen. Miss Mary Thurin was the latter's attendant.

The Crystal Room was artistically and colorfully decorated with forsythia, yellow tulips and palms. Miss Helena Clearwater and Mrs. Arthur Quimby were assisted by Mrs. Charles Brandt in the decorating.

Miss Helen Davenport was the commentator. Roger Baer furnished background music throughout the show.

Seen during the evening were original coiffures by J. Martin modeled by Mrs. Albert Rose, Sally Basch and Sylvia Kenik.

Proceeds from the event will assist the organization in sending two underprivileged children to camp in the Summer as well as finance social service programs at Christmas time and aid in the support of the YWCA by annual pledge and other services.

LeFever, Rylance Are Co-Chairmen For YM Campaign

Lloyd LeFever and Elmer Rylance will be co-chairmen of the initial gift committee of the YMCA drive which opens April 24. This announcement was made to the board by the steering committee of which George H. DeKay is chairman. The initial gift committee will strive to complete its work within the next month and make a report at the board of directors meeting April 15.

LeFever has served as chairman of this committee for several years. The board of directors were pleased to have him serve again with the assistance of Rylance who is vice president of the association.

At this meeting an interesting discussion was led by Rod Templeton, director from Newburgh Association and a member of the National Council. Everitt Robbins, general secretary of the Newburgh Association, also was a guest. The discussion centered on the State and National YMCA work and the obligation of each local Association to it.

The meeting was presided by President Chester A. Baltz and attended by the following directors: Clarence S. Rowland, Clifford Smith, Lloyd LeFever, Elmer Rylance, James Rowe, Clarence Dumm, William O'Reilly and B. C. VanIngen. Also present was Secretaries Tandy, Schafer and Corell.

There were several absentees due to sickness and some being away from the city.

Widow's Dilemma

"Why is it," she asked, "that my capital earns so little and my living expenses are so high?"

It was the earnest and sincere query of a puzzled widow who is having a most difficult time in balancing her budget. She can't understand why, with prices high for everything she must have in her economic scheme of things, her interest income is so low.

On my desk lay two reports of the financial operations of corporations that are leaders in America. I turned to them.

"Our country's inflation is deep-seated," I began. "It has infected the entire country driving wages and prices and costs higher and higher. The purchasing power of the dollar has gone down under the impact of these things."

I picked up the 1951 report of a leading automobile company. This widow's son drives one of this enterprise's cars. It was bought during 1951; consequently the figures covering last year's operations had special significance to this lady.

"Note here," I said, "that during 1951 this company sold 1,395,833 vehicles. And the tax bill was almost $240,000,000. That is about $170 a car. In addition, your son had a city sales tax of $84 to pay when he took delivery. Now consider another item in the purchase price that this second corporation report uncovers."

It had to do with a leading steel corporation that paid taxes of more than $400,000,000 during 1951. This giant company produced about 25-million tons of steel last year. Hence, taxes averaged about $16 a ton.

As a matter of fact, I pointed out that the high price of her son's car was directly related to the scores of taxes that went into the material required to build the vehicle.

Inflation sets into motion a succession of economic events that drive prices higher and higher, necessitating increased wages and boosting costs. Thus, since 1936, there have been 12 separate steel wage boosts. No wonder then that prices for everything using steel are high. Structural steel prices have gone through the roof and rents in new buildings are at prohibitive levels for most people.

The irony of this situation is that while living costs have steadily risen, earnings on savings and on mortgages and good bonds have gone down.

And there is no mystery in this. Twenty years ago when Uncle Sam's debts were eight per cent of his 1952 ones, he was paying 4 per cent a year for his money.

Since 1932, his I-O-U's have flooded the country and in doing so the country's money supplies have tremendously multiplied. Money has become cheap because it is so plentiful. An inflationary dollar in our national economy tends to drive prices and wages higher and higher and interest rates lower and lower.

The lot of this widow is the lot of people everywhere. In the field of thrift, saving and investment, it is the biggest thing in America. Millions of our most respected citizens who have no organization to speak for their rights are suffering daily from it.

The impact of this situation is forcing savings bond holders, bank depositors, dollar hoarders and other fixed money securities into sound and unsound speculation.

If the tens of billions of dollars of low yielding bonds were to be chased tomorrow (and it is in the cards) and this money should flow into more productive channels, it would be found that the supply of high grade common stocks would be inadequate. And if some of the 29-billions of dollars in circulation should be invested in the same instruments of finance, then common stock prices would really boom. The press of money in the securities markets will be a vital matter for a long, long time.

Revised Standard Bible Goes to Press

New York, March 20 (AP)—Printing has begun on the revised standard version of the Holy Bible, the climax to a 15-year labor of love.

The printing of one million copies got under way yesterday. They go on sale Sept. 30.

Spokesmen for the copyright owner—the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.—hailed it as one of the biggest projects in book publishing history.

For 15 years, 32 scholars worked on the new version, aiming at clearer language and truer accuracy than the widely used King James version that dates back to 1611.

Published by Thomas Nelson and Sons, the Bible is being printed here at the American Book-Stratford Press, Inc.; at the H. Wolff Book Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Teterboro, N. J., and the Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass. Plates also are being sent to Edinburgh, Scotland.

Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean emeritus of Yale Divinity School, who supervised the revision, listed three reasons for publishing the new Bible:

"First, manuscripts much older than those used by translators of the King James version are available to modern scholars. Many interpolations and hand opying errors made by medieval monks must be eliminated.

"Second, the archeological discoveries of the past 75 years have afforded incomparably richer resources for understanding the vocabulary, grammar and idioms of the biblical languages.

"Third, many words in the King James version which meant one thing 350 years ago, mean something else now, and they must be corrected to give the true meaning of the word for our time."

Want 'Resident' Musicians

Bismarck, N. D. (AP) — There's a band here which is short clarinet players, but no rush is expected to fill the jobs. Warden Oscar Nygaard says the North Dakota penitentiary band has about 25 members now. The boys are showing much improvement lately, but the clarinet section is weak and needs more personnel.

An inflationary dollar in our national economy tends to drive prices and wages higher and higher and interest rates lower and lower.

The lot of this widow is the lot of people everywhere. In the field of thrift, saving and investment, it is the biggest thing in America. Millions of our most respected citizens who have no organization to speak for their rights are suffering daily from it.

The impact of this situation is forcing savings bond holders, bank depositors, dollar hoarders and other fixed money securities into sound and unsound speculation.

If the tens of billions of dollars of low yielding bonds were to be chased tomorrow (and it is in the cards) and this money should flow into more productive channels, it would be found that the supply of high grade common stocks would be inadequate. And if some of the 29-billions of dollars in circulation should be invested in the same instruments of finance, then common stock prices would really boom. The press of money in the securities markets will be a vital matter for a long, long time.

Revised Standard Bible Goes to Press

New York, March 20 (AP)—Printing has begun on the revised standard version of the Holy Bible, the climax to a 15-year labor of love.

The printing of one million copies got under way yesterday. They go on sale Sept. 30.

Spokesmen for the copyright owner—the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.—hailed it as one of the biggest projects in book publishing history.

For 15 years, 32 scholars worked on the new version, aiming at clearer language and truer accuracy than the widely used King James version that dates back to 1611.

Published by Thomas Nelson and Sons, the Bible is being printed here at the American Book-Stratford Press, Inc.; at the H. Wolff Book Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Teterboro, N. J., and the Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass. Plates also are being sent to Edinburgh, Scotland.

Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean emeritus of Yale Divinity School, who supervised the revision, listed three reasons for publishing the new Bible:

"First, manuscripts much older than those used by translators of the King James version are available to modern scholars. Many interpolations and hand opying errors made by medieval monks must be eliminated.

"Second, the archeological discoveries of the past 75 years have afforded incomparably richer resources for understanding the vocabulary, grammar and idioms of the biblical languages.

"Third, many words in the King James version which meant one thing 350 years ago, mean something else now, and they must be corrected to give the true meaning of the word for our time."

Want 'Resident' Musicians

Bismarck, N. D. (AP) — There's a band here which is short clarinet players, but no rush is expected to fill the jobs. Warden Oscar Rygaard says the North Dakota penitentiary band has about 25 members now. The boys are showing much improvement lately, but the clarinet section is weak and needs more personnel.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail food prices showed little change this week compared with last weekend.

Frying and broiling chickens appeared to be edging up slightly in many places and there were minor fluctuations in fresh fruits and vegetables because of localized supply conditions. But the price trend as a whole was exceptionally stable.

Small chickens advanced one to as much as 9 cents a pound in several big marketing areas. Dealers said higher feed costs were probably a leading factor for the rise. They noted, however, that production is high and that pork and beef, which have been plentiful lately, are giving poultry more competition in recent weeks than they had for several months. So the uptrend in chicken prices may be only temporary.

A little lower on most fresh produce counters this week were string beans, beets, broccoli, carrots, cucumbers (though these were still unusually high), spinach, strawberries, Florida oranges and tangerines.

Small-sized pascal celery was reported selling at close to production costs in many cities and appeared likely to move higher as growers trimmed their shipments. It and new cabbage, carrots and spinach were described as good buys in most sections by Agriculture Department market reporters.

Cauliflower, eggplant, chicory, escarole, good quality tomatoes, California oranges, grapes and apples were a trifle higher.

Foods to be featured by major store chains and independents for weekend shopping showed considerable variety this week, reflecting the overall price stability. These foods appeared frequently on the lists of specials: beef roasts, pork loins, center cut pork chops, breast and neck of veal, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, picnic hams, stewing chickens, citrus fruits and juices, eggs, pascal celery, new cabbage, cheese, oysters and fresh and frozen fish.

The Agriculture Department recommended wider consumption of eggs and said the nation's hens are laying enough eggs now to provide two large ones a day for everybody, at a cost of 8 to 10 cents for the individual meal.

Grapefruit and carrots also were on the department's list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet food index, eased downward this week to the lowest average level since early November of 1950. The index this week was $6.54, compared with $6.58 last week and $7.23 a year ago. The wholesale cost-per-pound price of 31 foods in general use are added up to find the index figure.

Woman's Tip Leads To Ex-Convict Who Is Wanted in Conn.

New York, March 20 (AP)—A tip by a woman led to the arrest here last night of an ex-convict Roy Lee Reddick, 28, wanted for questioning in New Haven, Conn., about the dynamite deaths of a man and wife.

The husband, who was blown to bits with his wife Tuesday by dynamite planted in their small truck, had been scheduled to testify against Reddick, a Negro, later this week in an attempted robbery trial.

The victims of the "booby-trap" blast were Homer Wright, 42, and his wife, Ophelia, 41, Negroes. The dynamite went off as Wright started his vehicle.

Wright, working as a painter Feb. 27 in a New Haven shoe shine shop, routed an armed robber by throwing turpentine and paint at him. Police believe the robber wanted a $4,000 diamond ring being worn by the shop proprietor's wife, Mrs. Albert Smith.

Arrested in connection with the attempted holdup, Reddick was booked on an idleness charge and freed in $3,000 bail.

Meanwhile, New Haven police said, Wright had been approached by Preston Robinson, 28-year-old Negro, and offered a bribe not to appear against Reddick.

Yesterday, an unidentified woman who said she was an old friend of Reddick's told police he planned to hide out in a Harlem hotel.

New York and Connecticut detectives watched the hotel and arrested Reddick on a fugitive charge.

Connecticut authorities said they would request transfer of custody when Reddick appears in Manhattan Felony Court today.

Station Wagon Raise

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The government yesterday authorized basic retail price increases from $51 to $63 on 1952 Willys-Overland station wagon automobiles. The Office of Price Stabilization said no price increases are authorized for the company's series of standard passenger cars.

Leroy Hooker and Bob Laskowitz Selected as All-DUSO Forwards

Burkowski, Ripo R. Spreer Complete First String Team

Laskowitz and Spreer Unanimous Choices

Featuring three record-breaking scorers and two members of Newburgh Free Academy's undefeated intersectional champions, the 1951-52 All-DUSO basketball team, selected by six circuit sports writers, was made known today.

Bob Laskowitz, star of the Fallsburg Comets, and Richie Spreer, spark of the glamorized Goldbacks from NFA, were unanimous selections.

Mickey "The Marvel" Burkowski, sensational freshman center at Newburgh; Leroy Hooker, all-time scoring leader from Kingston High; and Johnny Ripo, holder of the modern Poughkeepsie High point mark, complete the honored five.

Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman, was the lone writer to pick the first team intact, according to George Palmateer, Poughkeepsie sports editor, who handled the votes.

Bob Spreer, twin brother of Richie, just missed the first team berth. He received two first votes and four second squad nominations for a total of 22 points, figured on the basis of five for first, three for second and one for third.

Second Team Strong

He tops the second team, which also includes Jerry Laks and Richie Drake of Ellenville; Bob Habig, Port Jervis standout; and Aaron Podhurst, scoring partner of Laskowitz at Fallsburg.

Twenty-two players from the 10 DUSO squads gained mention. Only Monticello failed to place a player on either of the three teams selected, but two of the Monties received honorable mention. Newburgh was the only quintet which had all five of its regulars receive votes.

'A Dream Team'

The first team is a veritable "dream" squad, blessed with height, speed and terrific attack.

Hooker hit for 500 points during the season to shatter Ronnie Scheffel's former record at Kingston. Ripo rimmed 321 points for Poughkeepsie, beating Tom Gloede's previous high of 294, set during the 1949-50 campaign. And Laskowitz concluded his brilliant career at Fallsburgh with a total in excess of 1,000 points for three years.

Burkowski, aptly tabbed "The Marvel" by his followers, contributes height and scoring punch as well as terrific rebounding ability. Mickey seems destined for all-time greatness at Newburgh, if he continues his fine play of the season just completed. He averaged around the 15-point mark.

R. Spreer, a driving, resourceful performer, captured the fancy of all those who saw him while the Newburghers sizzled to a great 21-0 record. He scored in consistently fine fashion and never seemed to be bothered when pressure was applied.

A Dream Game

If a contest between the two teams could be arranged, many would consider the duel a toss-up, such is the relative strength of the selections.

The third team combination is Pearly Watkins and Bill Parry, Middletown; Wayne Mauer, Liberty; Don Jackson, Newburgh, and Sherry Schuerholz, Middletown. This, too, is a gifted group.

Writers taking part in the poll were Charles J. Tiano, Kingston Daily Freeman; Ralph Fredericks, Port Jervis Union-Gazette; Wesley F. "Bo" Gill, Newburgh News; Edward Byrnes, Beacon News; Cliff Denton, Middletown Times-Herald, and George A. Palmateer, Poughkeepsie New Yorker, who directed the balloting.

Leroy Hooker and Bob Laskowitz Selected as All-DUSO Forwards

Burkowski, Ripo R. Spreer Complete First String Team

Laskowitz and Spreer Unanimous Choices

Featuring three record-breaking scorers and two members of Newburgh Free Academy's undefeated intersectional champions, the 1951-52 All-DUSO basketball team, selected by six circuit sports writers, was made known today.

Bob Laskowitz, star of the Fallsburg Comets, and Richie Spreer, spark of the glamorized Goldbacks from NFA, were unanimous selections.

Mickey "The Marvel" Burkowski, sensational freshman center at Newburgh; Leroy Hooker, all-time scoring leader from Kingston High; and Johnny Ripo, holder of the modern Poughkeepsie High point mark, complete the honored five.

Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman, was the lone writer to pick the first team intact, according to George Palmateer, Poughkeepsie sports editor, who handled the votes.

Bob Spreer, twin brother of Richie, just missed the first team berth. He received two first votes and four second squad nominations for a total of 22 points, figured on the basis of five for first, three for second and one for third.

Bozeman Surprise Leader in Billiards

San Francisco, March 20 (AP)—Veteran Jay Bozeman, playing billiards for the first time in six years, took over the world three-cushion tourney lead last night by walloping Miss Masako Katsura 50 to 18.

Bozeman—third man to hold the lead in three days—has six wins and two defeats in the single round robin meet that ends Saturday night. Tied for second at 5-2 are defending champion Willie Hoppe and the 10 time Japanese champ, Kinrey Matsuyama, who also emerged from retirement this year.

Defeats 156th FA Five In Slow Game, 42-39

Kaplan Bag cagers edged 156th FA in a stubborn, defense battle last night, 42-39, and qualified to meet the Esopus Firemen for the second round "B" title of the YMCA League on Saturday night.

Kaplans led 42-35 with 65 seconds remaining and froze the ball the rest of the way. Their ultimate margin of victory came from the foul line, where they dropped 10 out of 22 tries, while the 156th FA connected with only seven out of 21.

Bob Baumer caged 12 points to lead Kaplan Bag and Tony Hickey rimmed 10. Jay Rider and "Red" Hinkley holed 11 each for the losers and Huyler Van Wagenen contributed 10.

Sawyer's 'Austerity Program' Pays Off; Phils Playing Like 'Whiz Kids' of 1950

Manager Eddie Sawyer's "Austerity program" for the Philadelphia Phillies is paying off. In fact, it appears such a success, the Philadelphia skipper is optimistic over his team's chances in the 1952 race.

Sawyer laid the law down this spring after his National League champion "Whiz Kids" of 1950 slipped to fifth place in 1951. No wives, no automobiles, no golf, no gambling, no swimming and a strict curfew is the order of the day in camp.

The players toed the line and Sawyer was so pleased with the improvement that he relaxed some of the regulations. The boys can eat away from the hotel now and play cards, but the remainder of the restrictions still are in force.

Sawyer is well pleased with the showing of the Phils and believes they have a good chance to regain the throne.

"The Dodgers haven't replaced (Don) Newcombe and the Giants have to replace (Ed) Stanky and (Willie) Mays," Sawyer said today.

Outfielder Del Ennis is another reason the Phils' boss is high on his team.

Ennis, who slumped after a great 1950 season, is in the best shape of his career. A streamlined 190 pounds, Del has been hitting with power in the clutch.

The slugging outfielder started the Phils on the road to an 8-1 victory over the New York Yankees at Clearwater, Fla., yesterday by belting a grand slam home run in the seventh inning. The homer was Ennis' second bases loaded poke this spring.

Stars to Compete In '700' Sweeps

Bowling stars from throughout the mid-Hudson area are expected to compete in the first annual "700 Sweepstakes" on Saturday and Sunday at the Ferraro Bowlodrome.

Nick Leoce, Tony Mack and Pat Tarsio will head the Newburgh contingent. Phil Versace and Lou DePaolo are expected from Poughkeepsie; Pete Perrino, Middletown; Bill Guldenstern, Catskill, and a host of others.

Any bowler who has rolled a "700" in ABC sanctioned play is eligible to compete.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Tiger Rookie Clicks

Lakeland, Fla., March 20 (AP)—There may be a big shuffle in the Detroit Tiger outfield if rookie Russ Sullivan keeps up his base hits and improved fielding.

Sullivan, with an admittedly weak throwing arm, has played four games of errorless ball in left field. Yesterday he rocketed a double and two singles to smash in three runs in the Tigers 9-1 win over the Boston Braves.

Tampa, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers were still discussing today a strange ground rule in force in their game against Cincinnati at Vero Beach yesterday.

Before the game a water moccasin was found and killed in a ditch bordering left field. Just in case a companion was about, the umpires ruled that any ball bouncing into the ditch would be a ground rule double and any ball hitting the ditch on a fly would be a home run.

Tampa, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Cincinnati manager Luke Sewell was counting on the 22-year-old Wally Post as a fine prospect to take over center field position, but he'll have to hit.

Wally, who clobbered the ball for a .306 average at Buffalo last season, batted only .220 in 15 games with the Reds during 1951.

As for exhibition games: Post was hitless in three official trips to the plate as the Reds lost to Brooklyn at Vero Beach, 3-2, yesterday, striking out twice.

He has fanned nine times and delivered three hits in 24 times at bat this spring.

Phil Metzger Star With UC Swimmers

Schenectady — Philip Metzger, of Kingston, was one of the outstanding members of the Union College swimming team this season.

The Dutchmen enjoyed their second successive season in which they won nine out of ten meets. Metzger was Coach Ray Mullane's leading diver, as he accumulated 37 points and was sixth high on the team.

Metzger's improvement was remarkable as he started out the season scoring 60 points per event and finishing the season scoring in the 90's.

If this development continues, Metzger stands a good chance of smashing the college record next year, in his senior year. Mullane is counting on Metzger for another good season, as he wants to duplicate or top this season's record next year.

Celtics Impressive In Win Over Knicks

Boston, March 20 (AP)—Boston's high scoring Celtics held a one-game edge today over the New York Knickerbockers in their best-of-three games National Basketball Association playoff series.

Confident as a result of their 105-94 victory over the New Yorkers last night at the Garden, the Celtics hope to wind up the series Sunday afternoon in New York.

Tonight at Fort Wayne, Ind., the defending champion Rochester Royals and the Fort Wayne Zollners will play the second game of their best-of-three series. Rochester won the first tilt Tuesday night by trouncing the Zollners, 95-78, at Rochester, N. Y.

Sharp-shooting Bob Cousy tossed in 31 points as the Celtics passed the century mark for the 17th time this season while trimming the Knicks. Cousy also sank 13 free throws to tie the playoff record set last year by New York's Max Zaslofsky.

Big Beavers

The United States once had beavers as large as bears. Specimens of this giant beaver have been found in Ohio, New York, Michigan, South Carolina, and Texas.

Rose Schatzel Leads With 563

Rose Schatzel, Marcia Olbert and Helen McDougall were the divisional leaders in last night's Colonial Women's League session at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

The Queen powered 170-214-179-563 to top the Gold division. Olbert and McDougall slammed identical counts of 499, the former hitting 193-142-164 in the Purple and the latter, 189-163-147 in the Silver loop.

Trailing Schatzel was Eleanor Singer with 519; Phyl Gehringer 506; Ada Markle 501; Marge Jansen 20-497; Chris Wilson 497; Mae Martalto 495; Phyl Roosa 488; Elizabeth Schoonmaker 487; Doris Wolff 485; Evelyn Gross 482 and V. Slover 481.

Flo Beichert's 463 was second best in the Purple loop. Other top keglerettes were Faye Horne 456; Mildred Burns 212-453; Laura DeMay 450; Pauline Barth 435 and Sue Healy 421.

Ann Manfro posted 489 and Marion O'Donnell 475 in the Silver. Barbara Ebelheiser posted 469, Eleanor Dumenigo 449, June Kelder 441, Helen Bordenstein 440, P. Cowdrey 440, Helen Broskie 436, M. Mackey 429, D. Jankowski 426, B. Flynn 418 and Marie Kelekian 411.

Schaeffer Sizzles

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Rookie lefthander Harry Schaeffer is compiling quite a strikeout mark for the New York Yankees.

Schaeffer, up from Beaumont of the Texas League, has fanned 12 men in 14 innings. Yesterday Schaeffer fanned five Philadelphia Phillies in five innings and allowed only three hits.

St. Joseph's Upset In NCI Tournament

Troy, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Three seeded teams and one spoiler play in the semi-finals of the National Catholic Invitation basketball tourney tomorrow night.

Marquette, seeded No. 2, advanced last night by defeating Iona, 66-59, but third-seeded St. Joseph's (Pa.) went down before unseeded St. Francis (Pa.), 65-59.

Marquette will meet fourth-seeded St. Francis of Brooklyn, the defending champion. St. Francis (Pa.) takes on top-ranked Siena.

Maurice Stokes, 6-foot-6 center, led the dark-horse Frankies in their surprise win over St. Joe's. He scored 19 points and was a workhorse under the backboards. Marquette started slowly, but pulled ahead, 29-26, at the half and never again trailed.

Tonight is an open date. The finals are slated for Saturday night.

Sawyer's 'Austerity Program' Pays Off; Phils Playing Like 'Whiz Kids' of 1950

Manager Eddie Sawyer's "Austerity program" for the Philadelphia Phillies is paying off. In fact, it appears such a success, the Philadelphia skipper is optimistic over his team's chances in the 1952 race.

Sawyer laid the law down this spring after his National League champion "Whiz Kids" of 1950 slipped to fifth place in 1951. No wives, no automobiles, no golf, no gambling, no swimming and a strict curfew is the order of the day in camp.

The players toed the line and Sawyer was so pleased with the improvement that he relaxed some of the regulations. The boys can eat away from the hotel now and play cards, but the remainder of the restrictions still are in force.

Sawyer is well pleased with the showing of the Phils and believes they have a good chance to regain the throne.

"The Dodgers haven't replaced (Don) Newcombe and the Giants have to replace (Ed) Stanky and (Willie) Mays," Sawyer said today.

"Our pitching could be as good as anybody's when (Curt) Simmons gets back," he added. Simmons expects his army discharge soon.

Outfielder Del Ennis is another reason the Phils' boss is high on his team.

Ennis, who slumped after a great 1950 season, is in the best shape of his career. A streamlined 190 pounds, Del has been hitting with power in the clutch.

The slugging outfielder started the Phils on the road to an 8-1 victory over the New York Yankees at Clearwater, Fla., yesterday by belting a grand slam home run in the seventh inning. The homer was Ennis' second bases loaded poke this spring.

Stars to Compete In '700' Sweeps

Bowling stars from throughout the mid-Hudson area are expected to compete in the first annual "700 Sweepstakes" on Saturday and Sunday at the Ferraro Bowlodrome.

Nick Leoce, Tony Mack and Pat Tarsio will head the Newburgh contingent. Phil Versace and Lou DePaolo are expected from Poughkeepsie; Pete Perrino, Middletown; Bill Guldenstern, Catskill, and a host of others.

Any bowler who has rolled a "700" in ABC sanctioned play is eligible to compete.

Phil Metzger Star With UC Swimmers

Schenectady — Philip Metzger, of Kingston, was one of the outstanding members of the Union College swimming team this season.

The Dutchmen enjoyed their second successive season in which they won nine out of ten meets. Metzger was Coach Ray Mullane's leading diver, as he accumulated 37 points and was sixth high on the team.

Metzger's improvement was remarkable as he started out the season scoring 60 points per event and finishing the season scoring in the 90's.

If this development continues, Metzger stands a good chance of smashing the college record next year, in his senior year. Mullane is counting on Metzger for another good season, as he wants to duplicate or top this season's record next year.

Tiger Rookie Clicks

Lakeland, Fla., March 20 (AP)—There may be a big shuffle in the Detroit Tiger outfield if rookie Russ Sullivan keeps up his base hits and improved fielding.

Sullivan, with an admittedly weak throwing arm, has played four games of errorless ball in left field. Yesterday he rocketed a double and two singles to smash in three runs in the Tigers 9-1 win over the Boston Braves.

Tampa, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers were still discussing today a strange ground rule in force in their game against Cincinnati at Vero Beach yesterday.

Before the game a water moccasin was found and killed in a ditch bordering left field. Just in case a companion was about, the umpires ruled that any ball bouncing into the ditch would be a ground rule double and any ball hitting the ditch on a fly would be a home run.

Tampa, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Cincinnati manager Luke Sewell was counting on the 22-year-old Wally Post as a fine prospect to take over center field position, but he'll have to hit.

Wally, who clobbered the ball for a .306 average at Buffalo last season, batted only .220 in 15 games with the Reds during 1951.

As for exhibition games: Post was hitless in three official trips to the plate as the Reds lost to Brooklyn at Vero Beach, 3-2, yesterday, striking out twice.

He has fanned nine times and delivered three hits in 24 times at bat this spring.

Celtics Impressive In Win Over Knicks

Boston, March 20 (AP)—Boston's high scoring Celtics held a one-game edge today over the New York Knickerbockers in their best-of-three games National Basketball Association playoff series.

Confident as a result of their 105-94 victory over the New Yorkers last night at the Garden, the Celtics hope to wind up the series Sunday afternoon in New York.

Tonight at Fort Wayne, Ind., the defending champion Rochester Royals and the Fort Wayne Zollners will play the second game of their best-of-three series. Rochester won the first tilt Tuesday night by trouncing the Zollners, 95-78, at Rochester, N. Y.

Sharp-shooting Bob Cousy tossed in 31 points as the Celtics passed the century mark for the 17th time this season while trimming the Knicks. Cousy also sank 13 free throws to tie the playoff record set last year by New York's Max Zaslofsky.

Ann Manfro posted 489 and Marion O'Donnell 475 in the Silver. Barbara Ebelheiser posted 469, Eleanor Dumenigo 449, June Kelder 441, Helen Bordenstein 440, P. Cowdrey 440, Helen Broskie 436, M. Mackey 429, D. Jankowski 426, B. Flynn 418 and Marie Kelekian 411.

Schaeffer Sizzles

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Rookie lefthander Harry Schaeffer is compiling quite a strikeout mark for the New York Yankees.

Schaeffer, up from Beaumont of the Texas League, has fanned 12 men in 14 innings. Yesterday Schaeffer fanned five Philadelphia Phillies in five innings and allowed only three hits.

St. Joseph's Upset In NCI Tournament

Troy, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Three seeded teams and one spoiler play in the semi-finals of the National Catholic Invitation basketball tourney tomorrow night.

Marquette, seeded No. 2, advanced last night by defeating Iona, 66-59, but third-seeded St. Joseph's (Pa.) went down before unseeded St. Francis (Pa.), 65-59.

Marquette will meet fourth-seeded St. Francis of Brooklyn, the defending champion. St. Francis (Pa.) takes on top-ranked Siena.

Maurice Stokes, 6-foot-6 center, led the dark-horse Frankies in their surprise win over St. Joe's. He scored 19 points and was a workhorse under the backboards. Marquette started slowly, but pulled ahead, 29-26, at the half and never again trailed.

Tonight is an open date. The finals are slated for Saturday night.

Shields Resigns

New York, March 20 (AP)—The United State Davis Cup team will have a new captain this year, and American tennis bigwigs were scratching their heads today trying to decide who should get the sometimes thankless job vacated by Frank Shields. The handsome internationalist of two decades ago held down the post for one year, but announced last night he was not available this time.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

A tip of the hat to Coaches George S. "Lanky" Masterson of Newburgh Free Academy and G. Warren Kias of Kingston High.

Gentlemen, you did a nice job in the intersectional finals.

Masterson and his NFA Marvels rate the biggest accolade for squelching the myth of Mont Pleasant superiority. Twenty straight wins this season, three consecutive DUSO titles and an intersectional crown is praise enough for Masterson, NFA and even Caesar.

Coach Kias earned his degree in psychology in keeping KHS "up" for the consolation game with Albany, after Leroy Hooker had foolishly permitted himself to be declared ineligible.

Mont Pleasant clobbered Kingston once and Newburgh twice after dropping the intersectional opener but there is no evidence that DUSO basketball will not be on a par with Mont Pleasant and other capital district powers in the future.

The terror of the north isn't what it used to be. A Schenectady sports writer told us as much a few weeks ago.

"Mont Pleasant will never be the same without Coach Sig Makofski," he wailed. He could be right.

• The ABC Outgrows Its Home:

Secretary Emeritus Elmer E. Baumgarten of the American Bowling Congress has declined with regrets an invitation to attend the opening night ceremonies for the 27th annual New York State championships here on April 2.

Baumgarten, who visited Kingston in 1937, said that about the time the state tournament opens here the ABC would be dedicating its new $350,000 office building at Milwaukee.

The venerable secretary wrote with enthusiasm that the biggest sports body in the world has outgrown its headquarters again.

The American Bowling Congress, virtually a one-man operation less than 30 years ago (and Mr. Baumgarten was that one man), will move into its new building coincident with the opening of the 49th ABC tournament in the downtown area of Milwaukee.

Back in the mid-twenties, the ABC conducted its business from a cubby-hole office equipped with a pay telephone. Now, its membership swollen to 1,600,000 members, the national headquarters has found three floors of an office building inadequate.

The new red-brick structure, flagstone trimmed, has 28,000 square feet of floor space and features a modernistic lobby two stories high decorated in a bowling theme.

The continued growth of the ABC has been amazing. In the past four years, 200,000 new members have signed up. Bowlers from every state across the nation belong. Represented on the roster, too, are Canadians, Alaskans, South Americans, Mexicans, Chinese and Filipinos.

• Hit the Mail Man Hard Every Day:

Frank K. Baker, ABC secretary-treasurer, estimates his office spends $1,750 daily in service to its members. His staff of 60 full-time employes sends out an average of 2,600 pieces of mail each day. In addition to its main offices here, the ABC maintains field men in New York, Columbus, Ohio; and San Mateo, Cal.

Dues alone total about $800,000 annually. Entry fees for the annual tournament, highlight of every year, will hit close to the $700,000 mark for the current event which opens next Saturday for a three-month run.

It's been 29 years since the ABC tournament was held in the shadow of the home office—and compared with the current show it was little more than a modest tea party. Back in 1923 there were less than 11,000 participants; this year Baker figures active keglers will top the 40,000 mark.

Just an idea of how much money is involved, it's estimated that somewhere near $5,000,000 will be spent in Milwaukee while the meet is underway. The prize list alone will hit $450,000 and the ABC will disburse about that much again for such items as payroll, promotion, rental of the arena and construction of 40 new alleys. Food, housing, entertainment and other incidentals—like beverages will add up to the rest, even though free beer will be available at most of Milwaukee's breweries.

Bowling tournaments are terrific business. Here in Kingston percentagewise the April-May 26 state shindig is just as impressive. It will be a tremendous show. So tremendous, in fact, that some folks just can't seem to appreciate it. And we mean folks who will benefit directly from the tenpin merry-go-round. Didn't somebody once say that sometimes a thing can be so obvious it isn't noticed?

Saugerties Maps Plans for X-Ray Survey Program

A meeting was held at the town office in Saugerties Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing the village and township of Saugerties for a community chest X-ray survey.

The survey will be conducted by the Ulster County Department of Health, assistance being given by the Ulster County TB and Health Association. The aim of this survey is the prevention of tuberculosis.

From April 8 through April 22, a mobile X-ray unit provided by the New York State Department of Health will be in the township of Saugerties. All persons 15 years of age and over are eligible for a free chest X-ray. Through these X-rays, many conditions of the chest can be checked and interpreted by qualified specialists. Everyone X-rayed will receive a notice about his X-ray. All reports are strictly confidential.

Peter Williams, township chairman, presided at the meeting. Several health workers attending the meeting. Dr. Robert H. Broad, Ulster county commissioner of health, discussed the value and purpose of the community chest X-ray survey. Miss Helen Geneis, public health nurse for the township of Saugerties, talked on the medical followup and the public health nurse's duties in this part of the program. Katherine M. Murphy, RN, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, explained the organization and functions of the village and township committees.

Committees on publicity, transportation, location and personnel, and canvassing will be set up by the following area chairmen:

James Mains, Malden; William Plimley, Saugerties; Freeman Stay, Quarryville; William A. Woestendick, Centerville; and Frank Greco, Glasco.

Rio de Janeiro, March 20 (AP)—Brazilian coastal provinces stretching more than 1,400 miles along the Atlantic were reported under a state of military alert today after troops fought off an attempt to blow up a naval ammunition dump.

24 Years in National League

New York—(NEA)—Q. What happened to Zack Taylor?

A. Last year's manager of the St. Louis Browns has signed to skipper Scranton of the Eastern League this season.

Beans Reardon

Q. How much did Detroit pay for Ty Cobb when he came up from Augusta, Ga., in 1904?

A. Frank Navin, Detroit owner for many years, perhaps made the greatest buy in history when he paid a paltry $700 for the Georgia Peach.

Q. What would be the ruling if a player hit a home run, but fell dead running to first base?

A. The padded cells are crammed with stove leaguers who've gone nuts trying to solve that one. The rule says a batter who hits a fair ball over the fence or into the stands is entitled to a homer — "when he shall have touched all bases legally," i.e., in the proper order. Most umpires, however, would award the deceased a home run.

New Tulane Coach

New Orleans, March 20 (AP)—Raymond (Bear) Wolf, Tulane University's new head coach, plans to continue use of the "T" formation but will probably add variations, including some double wing back formations. Appointment of Wolf, Tulane line coach for the past two years, was announced last night by Dr. Rufus C. Harris, Tulane president, a few hours after the resignation of Henry Frnka.

Less than three per cent of New Mexico's 78,401,920 acres of land is under cultivation.

Shields Resigns

New York, March 20 (AP)—The United State Davis Cup team will have a new captain this year, and American tennis bigwigs were scratching their heads today trying to decide who should get the sometimes thankless job vacated by Frank Shields. The handsome internationalist of two decades ago held down the post for one year, but announced last night he was not available this time.

The first Rotary Club was formed in Chicago in 1905.

Robbins Advances

Sebring, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Thomas Robbins of Larchmont, N. Y., turned over the role of favorite today in the National Senior Amateur match play golf tournament. Robbins, the U. S. Senior Golf Association titleholder, scored a 4 and 3 victory yesterday over M. E. Stephens of Sebring, the defending champion in the current tournament.

The Umpire

Second of a question-and-answer series written for NEA Service by Beans Reardon, who umpired in the National League for 24 years, including six World Series and three All-Star Games.

By BEANS REARDON

24 Years in National League

New York—(NEA)—Q. What happened to Zack Taylor?

A. Last year's manager of the St. Louis Browns has signed to skipper Scranton of the Eastern League this season.

Q. How much did Detroit pay for Ty Cobb when he came up from Augusta, Ga., in 1904?

Beans Reardon

A. Frank Navin, Detroit owner for many years, perhaps made the greatest buy in history when he paid a paltry $700 for the Georgia Peach.

Q. What would be the ruling if a player hit a home run, but fell dead running to first base?

A. The padded cells are crammed with stove leaguers who've gone nuts trying to solve that one. The rule says a batter who hits a fair ball over the fence or into the stands is entitled to a homer — "when he shall have touched all bases legally," i.e., in the proper order. Most umpires, however, would award the deceased a home run.

New Tulane Coach

New Orleans, March 20 (AP)—Raymond (Bear) Wolf, Tulane University's new head coach, plans to continue use of the "T" formation but will probably add variations, including some double wing back formations. Appointment of Wolf, Tulane line coach for the past two years, was announced last night by Dr. Rufus C. Harris, Tulane president, a few hours after the resignation of Henry Frnka.

Less than three per cent of New Mexico's 78,401,920 acres of land is under cultivation.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

A tip of the hat to Coaches George S. "Lanky" Masterson of Newburgh Free Academy and G. Warren Kias of Kingston High.

Gentlemen, you did a nice job in the intersectional finals.

Masterson and his NFA Marvels rate the biggest accolade for squelching the myth of Mont Pleasant superiority. Twenty straight wins this season, three consecutive DUSO titles and an intersectional crown is praise enough for Masterson, NFA and even Caesar.

Coach Kias earned his degree in psychology in keeping KHS "up" for the consolation game with Albany, after Leroy Hooker had foolishly permitted himself to be declared ineligible.

Mont Pleasant clobbered Kingston once and Newburgh twice after dropping the intersectional opener but there is no evidence that DUSO basketball will not be on a par with Mont Pleasant and other capital district powers in the future.

The terror of the north isn't what it used to be. A Schenectady sports writer told us as much a few weeks ago.

"Mont Pleasant will never be the same without Coach Sig Makofski," he wailed. He could be right.

• The ABC Outgrows Its Home:

Secretary Emeritus Elmer E. Baumgarten of the American Bowling Congress has declined with regrets an invitation to attend the opening night ceremonies for the 27th annual New York State championships here on April 2.

Baumgarten, who visited Kingston in 1937, said that about the time the state tournament opens here the ABC would be dedicating its new $350,000 office building at Milwaukee.

The venerable secretary wrote with enthusiasm that the biggest sports body in the world has outgrown its headquarters again.

The American Bowling Congress, virtually a one-man operation less than 30 years ago (and Mr. Baumgarten was that one man), will move into its new building coincident with the opening of the 49th ABC tournament in the downtown area of Milwaukee.

Back in the mid-twenties, the ABC conducted its business from a cubby-hole office equipped with a pay telephone. Now, its membership swollen to 1,600,000 members, the national headquarters has found three floors of an office building inadequate.

The new red-brick structure, flagstone trimmed, has 28,000 square feet of floor space and features a modernistic lobby two stories high decorated in a bowling theme.

The continued growth of the ABC has been amazing. In the past four years, 200,000 new members have signed up. Bowlers from every state across the nation belong. Represented on the roster, too, are Canadians, Alaskans, South Americans, Mexicans, Chinese and Filipinos.

• Hit the Mail Man Hard Every Day:

Frank K. Baker, ABC secretary-treasurer, estimates his office spends $1,750 daily in service to its members. His staff of 60 full-time employes sends out an average of 2,600 pieces of mail each day. In addition to its main offices here, the ABC maintains field men in New York, Columbus, Ohio; and San Mateo, Cal.

Dues alone total about $800,000 annually. Entry fees for the annual tournament, highlight of every year, will hit close to the $700,000 mark for the current event which opens next Saturday for a three-month run.

It's been 29 years since the ABC tournament was held in the shadow of the home office—and compared with the current show it was little more than a modest tea party. Back in 1923 there were less than 11,000 participants; this year Baker figures active keglers will top the 40,000 mark.

Just an idea of how much money is involved, it's estimated that somewhere near $5,000,000 will be spent in Milwaukee while the meet is underway. The prize list alone will hit $450,000 and the ABC will disburse about that much again for such items as payroll, promotion, rental of the arena and construction of 40 new alleys. Food, housing, entertainment and other incidentals—like beverages will add up to the rest, even though free beer will be available at most of Milwaukee's breweries.

Bowling tournaments are terrific business. Here in Kingston percentagewise the April-May 26 state shindig is just as impressive. It will be a tremendous show. So tremendous, in fact, that some folks just can't seem to appreciate it. And we mean folks who will benefit directly from the tenpin merry-go-round. Didn't somebody once say that sometimes a thing can be so obvious it isn't noticed?

Saugerties Maps Plans for X-Ray Survey Program

A meeting was held at the town office in Saugerties Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing the village and township of Saugerties for a community chest X-ray survey.

The survey will be conducted by the Ulster County Department of Health, assistance being given by the Ulster County TB and Health Association. The aim of this survey is the prevention of tuberculosis.

From April 8 through April 22, a mobile X-ray unit provided by the New York State Department of Health will be in the township of Saugerties. All persons 15 years of age and over are eligible for a free chest X-ray. Through these X-rays, many conditions of the chest can be checked and interpreted by qualified specialists. Everyone X-rayed will receive a notice about his X-ray. All reports are strictly confidential.

Peter Williams, township chairman, presided at the meeting. Several health workers attending the meeting. Dr. Robert H. Broad, Ulster county commissioner of health, discussed the value and purpose of the community chest X-ray survey. Miss Helen Geneis, public health nurse for the township of Saugerties, talked on the medical followup and the public health nurse's duties in this part of the program. Katherine M. Murphy, RN, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, explained the organization and functions of the village and township committees.

Committees on publicity, transportation, location and personnel, and canvassing will be set up by the following area chairmen:

James Mains, Malden; William Plimley, Saugerties; Freeman Stay, Quarryville; William A. Woestendick, Centerville; and Frank Greco, Glasco.

Try to Blow Munitions

Rio de Janeiro, March 20 (AP)—Brazilian coastal provinces stretching more than 1,400 miles along the Atlantic were reported under a state of military alert today after troops fought off an attempt to blow up a naval ammunition dump.

The original flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner" now is in the Smithsonian Institution.

Vote Begins on Jap Treaty

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The Senate today begins voting on the Japanese Peace Treaty. Leaders predict it will be ratified before nightfall. Some opposition to the treaty and its three accompanying a Pacific security pacts—with Japan, the Philippines, and Australia and New Zealand—developed among Republican senators yesterday. But Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz.) remained confident they would be approved by well over the necessary two-thirds majority.

The giving of a ring to mark betrothal was a Roman custom.

Hurley Busy Bees

The Hurley Busy Bees have had a busy month doing demonstrations for the local Grange and Community Service Club of Hurley. Enid Goetchius, a blue ribbon winner for her apple bars; Joan Kolodziejski, blue ribbon for nutritious sandwiches and nourishing lunch box, included some of the demonstrations. Others included Nancy Hutton, Janet Lockwood, Carol Lawrence and Marie Schoeps. A gift from the Hurley Grange was given to the Busy Bees and encouraged them to continue their good work. The group also had a display in Montgomery Wards during National 4-H Club Week. The work resulted in a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for Joan Ortmann.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

EVERYBODY WAS WRONG

A letter says: "One evening last week my husband and I were at a supper club with three other couples. All the men in the party were in their early and mid-fifties. During the evening, the daughter of one of the couples stopped by our table with her boy friend. The girl's father rose, but my husband and the other men remained seated. After the girl had gone, the girl's mother commented on the rudeness of the men who had not risen. I would like to know whether or not these men should have risen when her nineteen-year-old daughter came to the table. I would also like to know whether or not you agree that the girl's mother showed far more discourtesy in commenting on the rudeness of the men."

In this case that you describe, I think everyone was in the wrong. First, the father should not have risen from the table for his young daughter as this actually obliged the other men to rise with him, and put them in the wrong for not doing so. The mother was, however, still more at fault for commenting upon what she considered the rudeness of the men.

Name Problem

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's father was christened Robert. His oldest brother was named John Robert but was never called anything but Robert. When my son was born, we named him Robert for my husband's father who has since passed away. My husband's brother (John Robert) has just had a son whom he has named Robert. Would you be so kind as to tell me the correct suffixes for each?

Answer: Since your son was given the identical name of his grandfather, he was "Junior" until the death of his grandfather, when he would have dropped the junior. His uncle's name is John Robert and if he has omitted the John he may call himself Robert, 2nd and his son Robert, 3rd. Correctly, however, he should retain his own name of John Robert, and his son will be called Robert, 2nd.

Vote Begins on Jap Treaty

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The Senate today begins voting on the Japanese Peace Treaty. Leaders predict it will be ratified before nightfall. Some opposition to the treaty and its three accompanying a Pacific security pacts—with Japan, the Philippines, and Australia and New Zealand—developed among Republican senators yesterday. But Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz.) remained confident they would be approved by well over the necessary two-thirds majority.

The giving of a ring to mark betrothal was a Roman custom.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Hurley Busy Bees

The Hurley Busy Bees have had a busy month doing demonstrations for the local Grange and Community Service Club of Hurley. Enid Goetchius, a blue ribbon winner for her apple bars; Joan Kolodziejski, blue ribbon for nutritious sandwiches and nourishing lunch box, included some of the demonstrations. Others included Nancy Hutton, Janet Lockwood, Carol Lawrence and Marie Schoeps. A gift from the Hurley Grange was given to the Busy Bees and encouraged them to continue their good work. The group also had a display in Montgomery Wards during National 4-H Club Week. The work resulted in a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for Joan Ortmann.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

EVERYBODY WAS WRONG

A letter says: "One evening last week my husband and I were at a supper club with three other couples. All the men in the party were in their early and mid-fifties. During the evening, the daughter of one of the couples stopped by our table with her boy friend. The girl's father rose, but my husband and the other men remained seated. After the girl had gone, the girl's mother commented on the rudeness of the men who had not risen. I would like to know whether or not these men should have risen when her nineteen-year-old daughter came to the table. I would also like to know whether or not you agree that the girl's mother showed far more discourtesy in commenting on the rudeness of the men."

In this case that you describe, I think everyone was in the wrong. First, the father should not have risen from the table for his young daughter as this actually obliged the other men to rise with him, and put them in the wrong for not doing so. The mother was, however, still more at fault for commenting upon what she considered the rudeness of the men.

Name Problem

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's father was christened Robert. His oldest brother was named John Robert but was never called anything but Robert. When my son was born, we named him Robert for my husband's father who has since passed away. My husband's brother (John Robert) has just had a son whom he has named Robert. Would you be so kind as to tell me the correct suffixes for each?

Answer: Since your son was given the identical name of his grandfather, he was "Junior" until the death of his grandfather, when he would have dropped the junior. His uncle's name is John Robert and if he has omitted the John he may call himself Robert, 2nd and his son Robert, 3rd. Correctly, however, he should retain his own name of John Robert, and his son will be called Robert, 2nd.

Craft Demonstration Is Planned Thursday

Woodstock, March 19—The second in the series of craft demonstrations, sponsored by the Bureau of Occupational Extension and Industrial Services, will be held at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Betty Crane, noted craftswoman, will exhibit methods of working in metal. Working from a design created Tuesday night in the class at the Guild of Dick Chambers, Mrs. Crane will probably shape up a hammered copper box or bowl. In addition she will show how a necklace pendant may be created from a length of copper wire.

Mrs. Crane, during the past winter has been creating a number of new designs to add to her collection of metal jewelry now on view in the showcases of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen. Among them are an enchantingly heavy new bracelet of molten silver with a copper wire design motif applies encircling the circular silver mountings.

In this line of jewelry Mrs. Crane has been particularly interested in working out abstract designs in molten metal, both copper and silver.

Mrs. Crane received her B.S. degree in fine arts, majoring in sculpture. She completed a general arts course, including special work in jewelry. She worked at the famous Clay Club, on 8th street, New York, which is now the Sculpture Center which is now located at 167 East 69th street, New York.

She also studied art with Dorothy Brown of the Rhode Island School of Design for three years, while attending the Mary C. Wheeler School at Providence, R. I. When she worked at the Clay Club she became interested in direct metal sculpture and wire constructions from which it was a short step to the necklaces and other jewelry pieces she now creates.

Blockades Ending

Pittsburgh, March 20 (AP)—"Voluntary truck blockades"—protesting Pennsylvania's 45,000 pound gross weight limit—which slowed down truck traffic into the state from Ohio and New York were breaking up this morning. Shortly after midnight more than 200 large interstate trucks had voluntarily halted at the Pennsylvania line near Ripley, N. Y., and Conneaut, O., but by dawn many drivers had turned around and left for further instructions from their owners.

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP) — The Legislature today approved a Dewey administration bill to increase pensions for retired state and municipal employes, up to $300 a year. Snow Threatens Cattle

San Francisco, March 20 (AP)—Snow marooned some 2,000 people in east-central California and threatened 600,000 head of Nevada livestock with starvation on this first day of spring. In Mono county, on the Nevada-California border, snow blocked roads to people running low on fuel. "The storms are keeping up and I don't know when we'll get out," telephoned Mrs. Marjorie Gripper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Leevining.

Putting Up Fence

Vienna, March 20 (AP)—The American-sponsored newspaper winner Kurier said today Czech workers are constructing a wire fence along the Czech-Austrian border to prevent the escape of refugees. Hungary built a 12-foot-high fence on the Austrian border two years ago for the same purpose.

With 'Oldtimers'

Woodstock, March 19—In the March 17 issue of Life magazine, Yasuo Kuniyoshi is one of the "oldtimers" pictured in a group of artists associated with the Downtown Gallery, New York, which specializes in the work of modern American artists. The Life picture story features a group of "artists of tomorrow," discovered by Mrs. Edith Halpert, founder of the Downtown Gallery.

Blockades Ending

Pittsburgh, March 20 (AP)—"Voluntary truck blockades"—protesting Pennsylvania's 45,000 pound gross weight limit—which slowed down truck traffic into the state from Ohio and New York were breaking up this morning. Shortly after midnight more than 200 large interstate trucks had voluntarily halted at the Pennsylvania line near Ripley, N. Y., and Conneaut, O., but by dawn many drivers had turned around and left for further instructions from their owners.

Pass Pension Hike

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP) — The Legislature today approved a Dewey administration bill to increase pensions for retired state and municipal employes, up to $300 a year. No increase, however, could push a total pension to more than $1,200 annually. The measure was given final approval in the Assembly and sent to the Governor.

Program in Operation

Trenton, N. J., March 20 (AP)—Governor Driscoll's 1952 legislative program was finally rolling today after almost 11 weeks of immobility. The State Senate put the program on the go yesterday as it passed an administration bill calling for a $25,000,000 bond issue to finance additional improvements of institutions and agencies.

Snow Threatens Cattle

San Francisco, March 20 (AP)—Snow marooned some 2,000 people in east-central California and threatened 600,000 head of Nevada livestock with starvation on this first day of spring. In Mono county, on the Nevada-California border, snow blocked roads to people running low on fuel. "The storms are keeping up and I don't know when we'll get out," telephoned Mrs. Marjorie Gripper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Leevining.

Putting Up Fence

Vienna, March 20 (AP)—The American-sponsored newspaper winner Kurier said today Czech workers are constructing a wire fence along the Czech-Austrian border to prevent the escape of refugees. Hungary built a 12-foot-high fence on the Austrian border two years ago for the same purpose.

County Handling

Carl Muller of Shandaken and Shandaken Manor. William A. Riseley appeared for these plaintiffs. Kingdon Gould also brought an action for damages. These matters were also considered at the February 29 hearing before Justice Schreiber.

In an opinion which accompanied his decision Justice Schreiber says:

"It clearly appears that process was served upon the corporation counsel in the manner which he lead the public to believe would be regarded as sufficient service upon him. The contention of the corporation counsel that he had no right to authorize service to be made upon him except personally, appears to be without merit. It is inconceivable that the Legislature could have intended that service in every action against the City of New York could validly be effected only by personal service upon the mayor, the comptroller or the corporation counsel, without any right on their part to designate others to accept service on their behalf. To uphold the contention of the corporation counsel would mean that these three responsible and extremely busy city officials would be obliged each year to take off sufficient time from their other duties to accept service in the many thousands of actions commenced against the city annually. The court is in agreement with the views recently expressed by Mr. Justice Hofstadter in Avery vs. O'Dwyer (N.Y.L.J., February 19th, 1952): 'To treat such service as ineffectual because the summons was not handed to the corporation counsel himself, would be inadmissible. The corporation counsel has set up a regular system and has invited litigants to abide by and rely on that system. To permit the corporation counsel at his whim to treat service made as directed by him, as not being service on him, would place the public at his mercy and lead to chaos.' The motion to vacate service is denied. Settle Order."

To Decide on Controls

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The government hopes to decide in the next week or ten days whether to lift price controls in a half-dozen major raw product fields, including wool and cotton. Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall told the Senate Banking Committee yesterday the Office of Price Stabilization hopes within two weeks to publish a statement on price control suspension policy, along with a preliminary set of standards. On the other hand, he said it may soon become necessary to place fresh fruit and vegetables under price controls if their prices continue to increase.

Diplomats Agree

Paris, March 20 (AP)—French officials said today that British, French and American diplomats here have agreed on a joint reply to the Soviet Union's latest proposal for an all-German peace treaty. French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U. S. Ambassador James Dunn worked on the text this morning, following up conferences of last night. The next is being dispatched to Washington for clearance with Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Against Water Project

New York, March 20 (AP)—A New York Chamber of Commerce Committee chairman has asked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to veto the Incodel Bill which provides for four-state joint action in developing Delaware river water resources. The plea was made in a letter sent to the governor last night by Eugene L. Macdonald, chairman of the chamber's committee on public service in the Metropolitan District. Macdonald said the project needs further study and public discussion.

Gottlieb's Low Bidder

Gottlieb Iron Works Inc., of Brooklyn, was low bidder for construction and electric work for installation of a new upward door on the drill shed at the state armory here, B. D. Tallamy, state public works superintendent announced today. The bid was $4,643. Bids totaling $100,748 on seven projects were opened in Albany yesterday.

Will Adjourn Today

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the Assembly today a resolution fixing final adjournment of the Legislature for 3 p. m. (EST) today.

Winter Has Last Fling . . .

curred officially at 11:14 a. m. At 10 a. m. the city engineer's office reported the temperature as 44 degrees and rising and the slush was fast thawing and taking to the gutters.

The city sent out work crews about 7 p. m. yesterday and 20 plows cruised the streets as the city slept. Crews stuck at the job until late this morning.

The County Highway Department, with about 30 plows bucking snow on 28 routes, began its cleaning operation about noon yesterday, breaking its work up into sections. It was pointed out that the snow built up more rapidly in some parts of the county than in others and that the department tackled the worst areas first. A few trucks were out today "widening the roads" but all routes were clear.

Ed Strong, district manager of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, said that most of Central's crews in this area were out all night, that there were a "few trees down" and that there had been a "little shaking up here and there."

He still lacked complete details this morning but reported that all lines were back and "in good order." He explained that detailed reports had not been received because members of the eight crews that worked through the night were making up a little lost sleep.

Lines Are Damaged

Areas reported out due to trees and limbs across Central Hudson lines were in Boiceville, Port Ewen, West Hurley, West Saugerties, Atwood and, in the city, Emerson street. Strong said that not much trouble had been reported "north of here."

"Just normal storm trouble" was reported by the New York Telephone Company with "no big breaks." A few scattered wires were said to be down but these were being cleared up rapidly today.

The Associated Press reported that much of the state had fresh snow on the ground as the Equinox approached, skies murky and the thermometer about 40.

A sticky snowfall coated the eastern half of the state yesterday and last night with one to five inches reported. Albany had five inches—mostly slush—and Glens Falls and Massena had four.

Oneonta, Binghamton and Poughkeepsie reported three inches, Utica two and Syracuse one.

South Dakota's Black Hills area is said to be the oldest mountain area on the North American continent.

May Endorse Candidate

New York, March 20 (AP)—Possibility the AFL will endorse a presidential candidate for the first time since 1924 was raised by an AFL official yesterday. But the official, James L. McDevitt, director of the AFL's League for Political Education, did not indicate which candidate or which party might be endorsed.

Enduring

Through the ages there has stood in the desert this Sphinx. Empire after empire has flooded around it — it has withstood the ravages of time.

Whether or not you are acquainted with this fact, Smith Parish can install for you on your home a brand of SIDING that will be almost as enduring as the Sphinx!

It may be the solution to the ravages of time on your home. It may be the answer to loss of heat which sends your heating bill sky-high. It could be the addition of new beauty to your house.

We suggest a phone call to 5656 — possibly we can then explain our SIDING offer to your advantage. As always, you are definitely not obligated to us to chat about the matter.
